Faculty

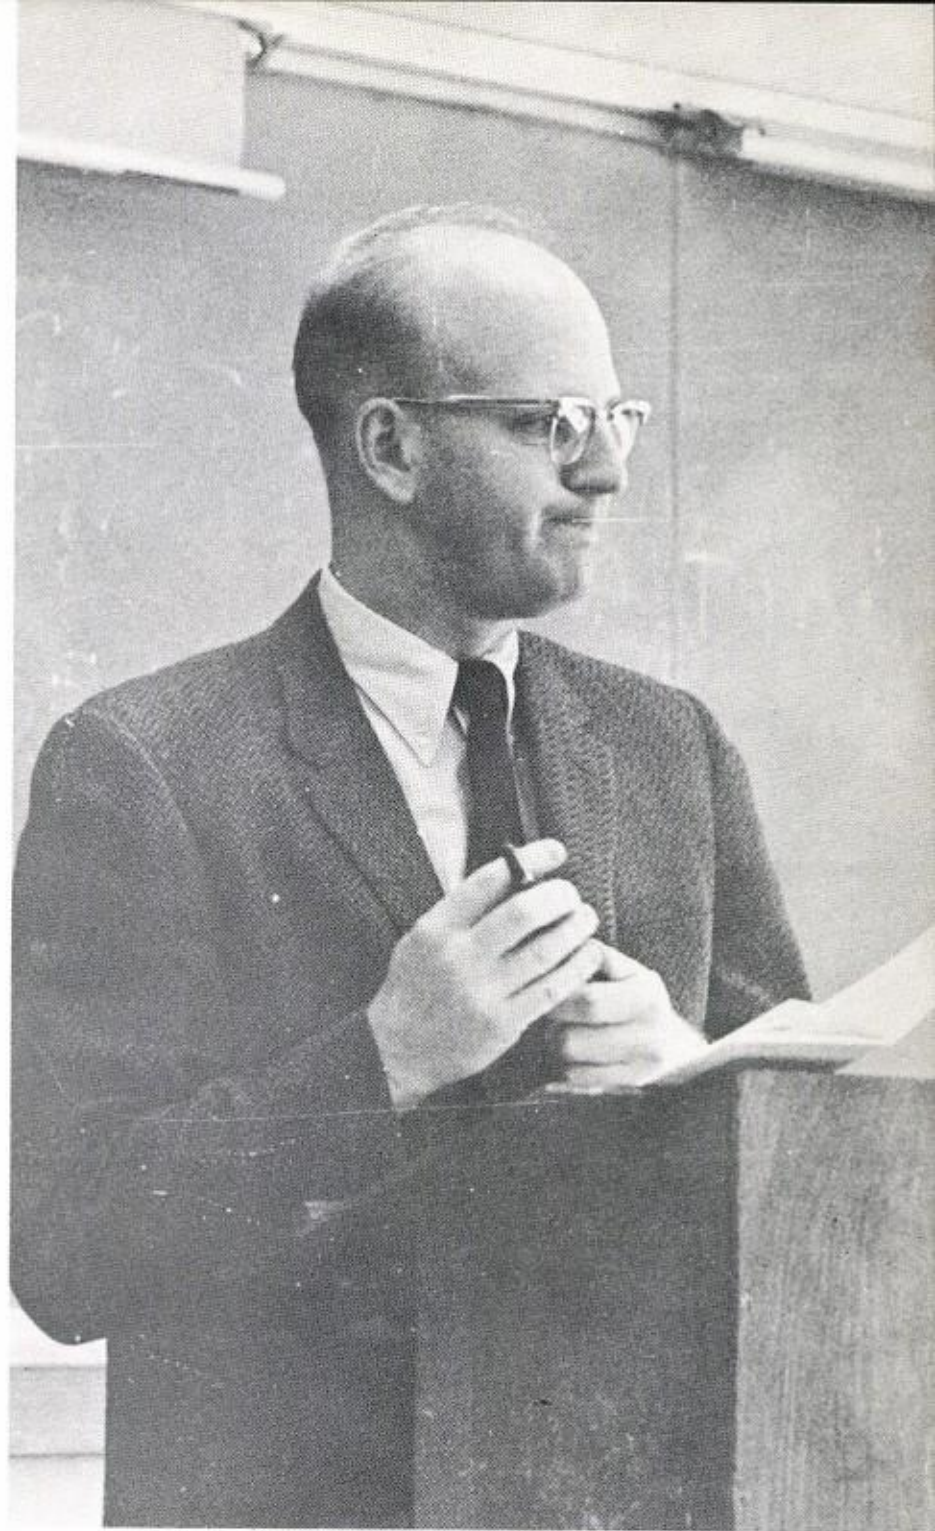

The standards of excellence at George Washington High School are maintained through the achievements of its faculty. Patriots are extremely proud of their faculty, not only for their interest and devotion, but also for their extra participation in student functions. Included in the extra-curricular activities are club and class sponsorship and lunchroom supervision.

Activities Add

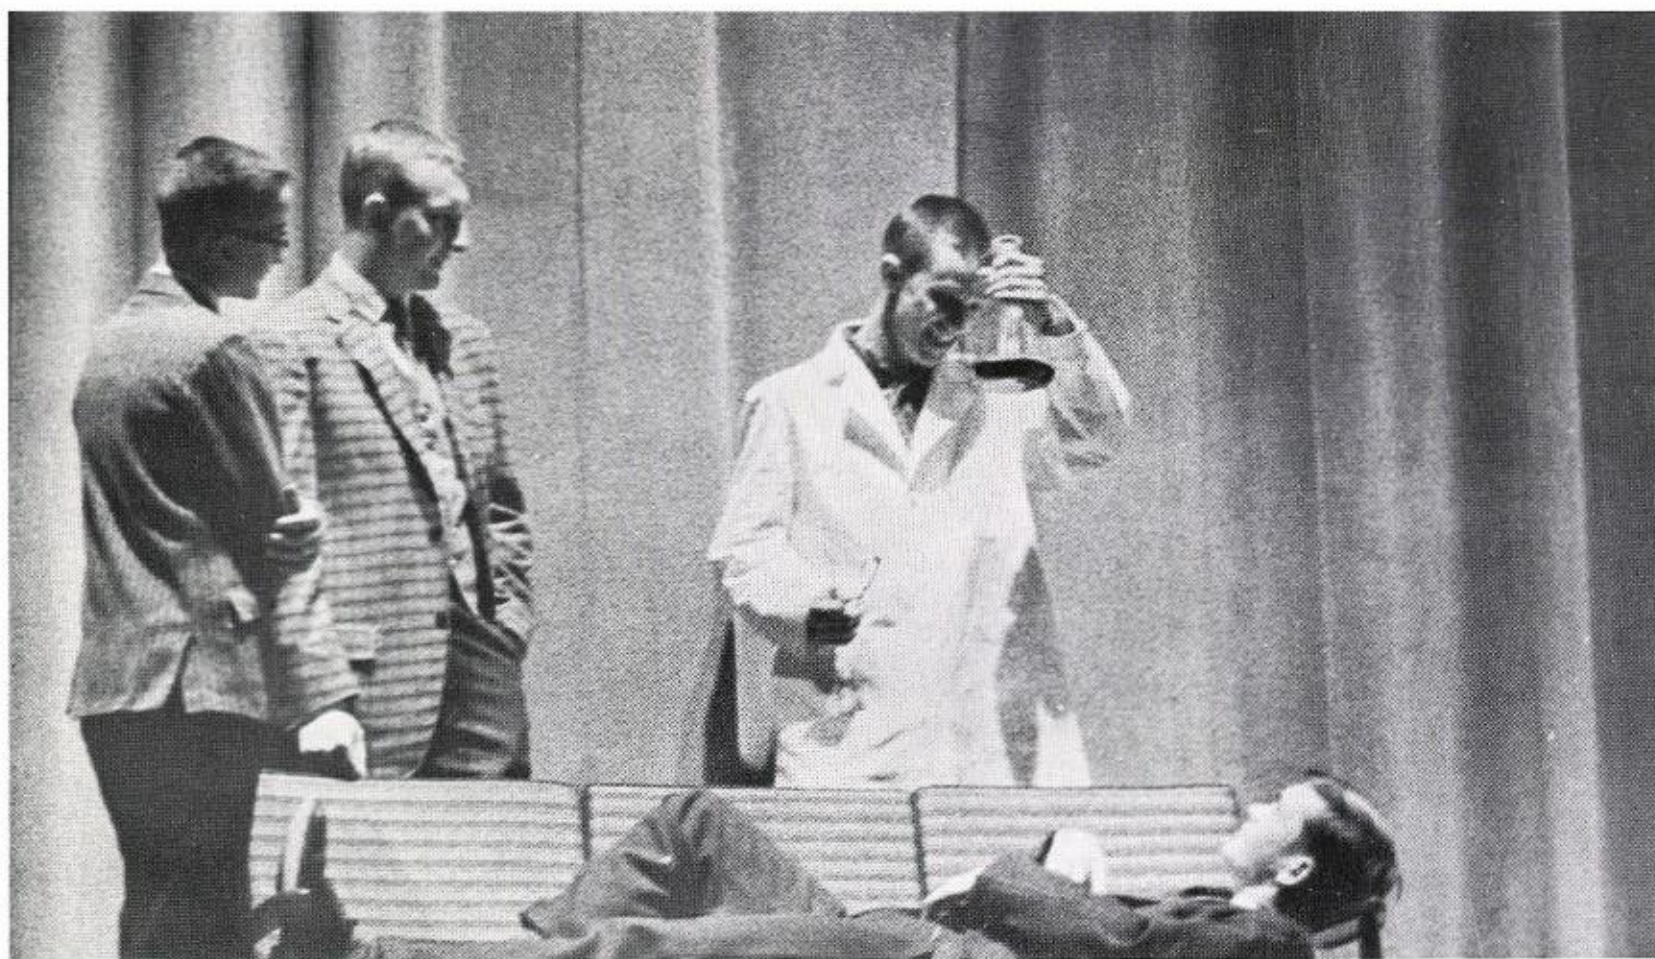

A wide variety of school activities gives the George Washington student an opportunity to display his many talents. Whether it be in leadership development, personal improvement, or intellectual pursuits, the student is able to further his knowledge through the valuable activities offered him.

Perspective to Patriot's School Life

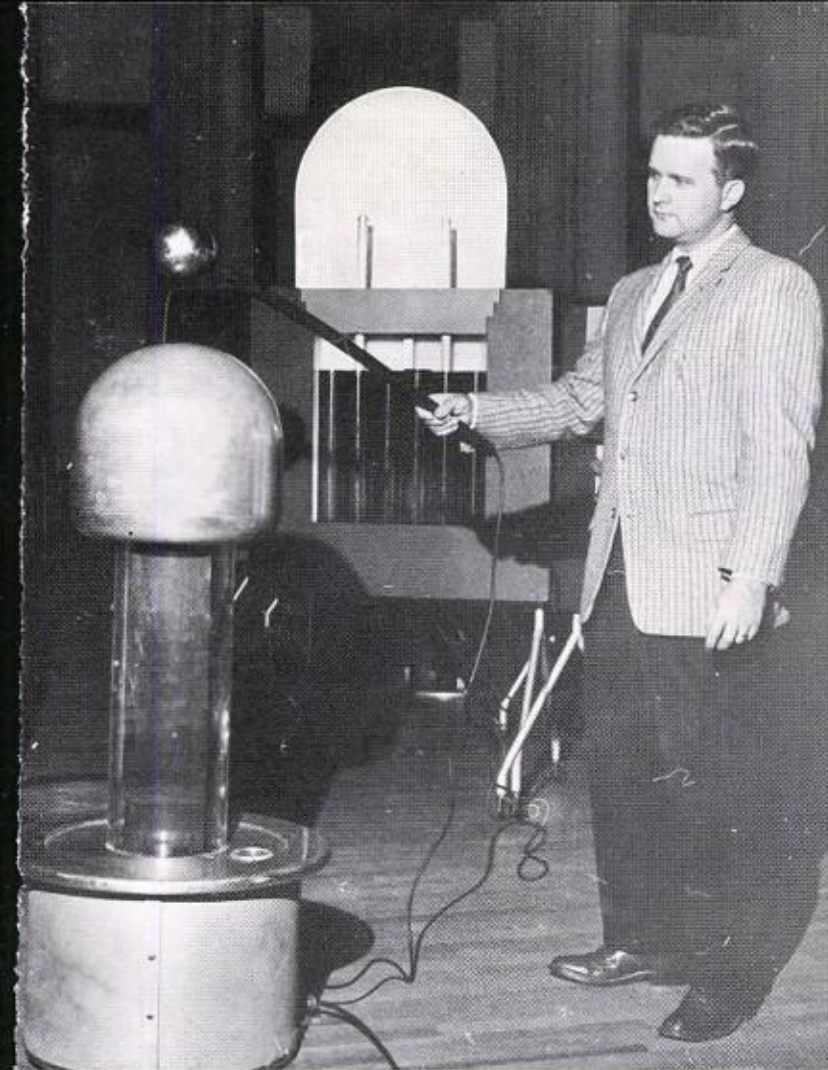

Seniors depict a visit to a psychiatrist's office in the class dues assembly.

Fall and Winter Assemblies

Frequent and interesting assemblies highlighted the first semester of the school year. Programs featuring both Patriots and special guests brought welcome variety to the daily school routine.

Members of the Varsity football team demonstrate their cheerleading ability at a pep assembly.

Properties of radioactivity are demonstrated in an assembly sponsored by the Oakridge Science Corporation.

Miss Violette MacCarthy leads the Concert Choir in the Christmas assembly.

Mr. Saul Caston, conductor, introduced the Denver Civic Symphony Orchestra.

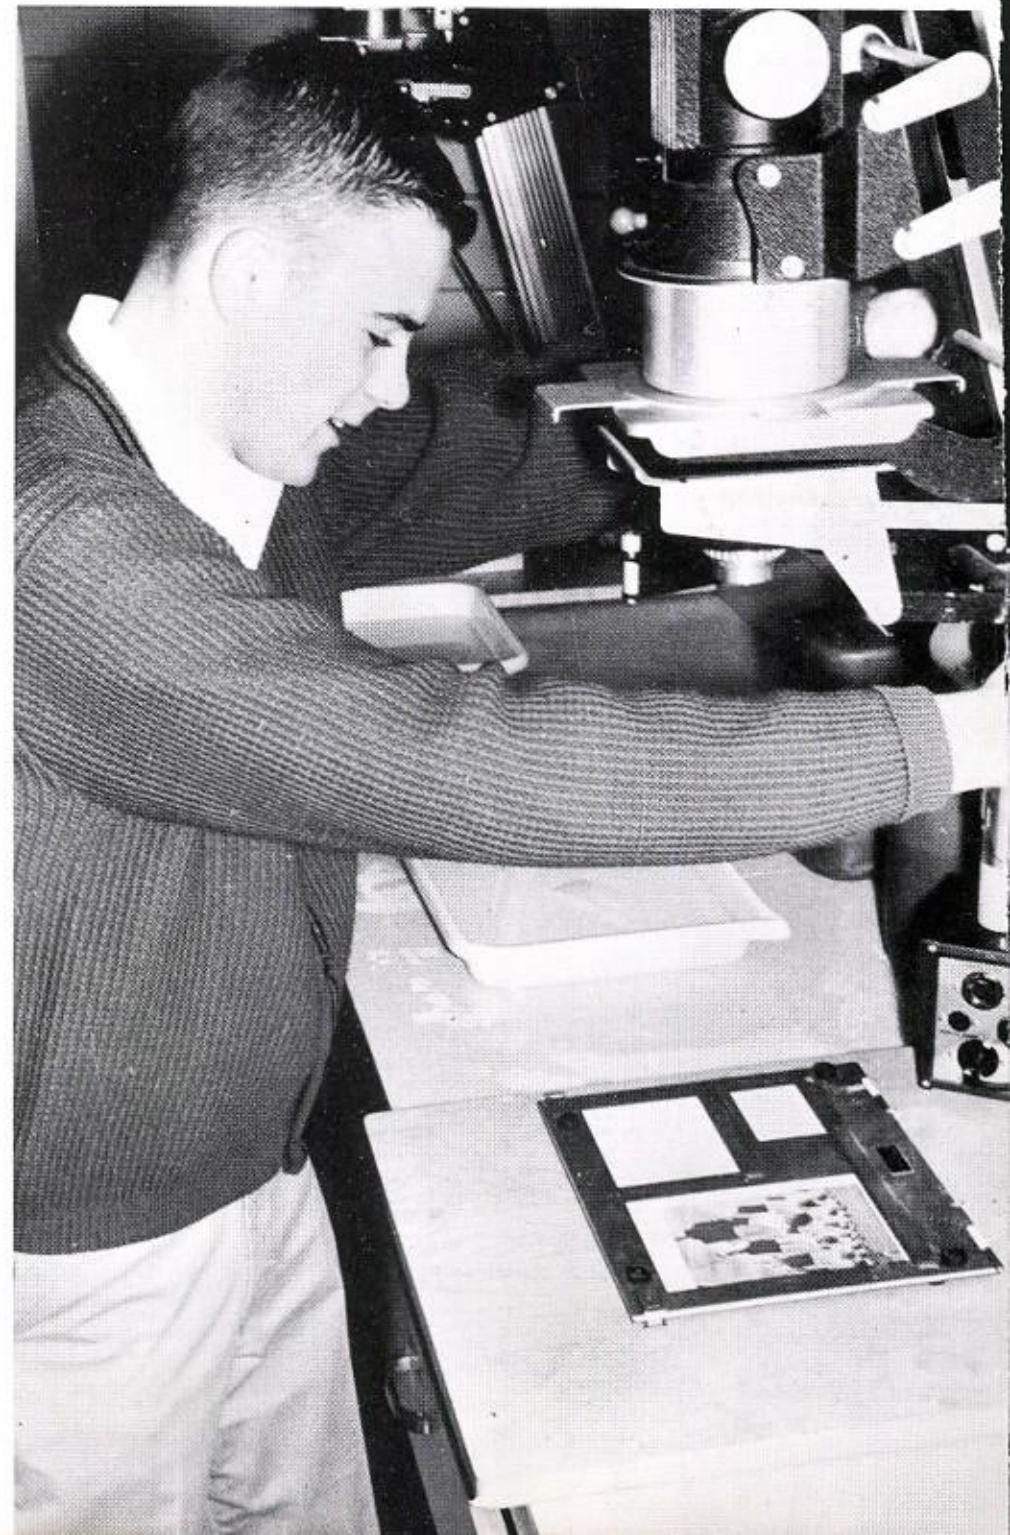

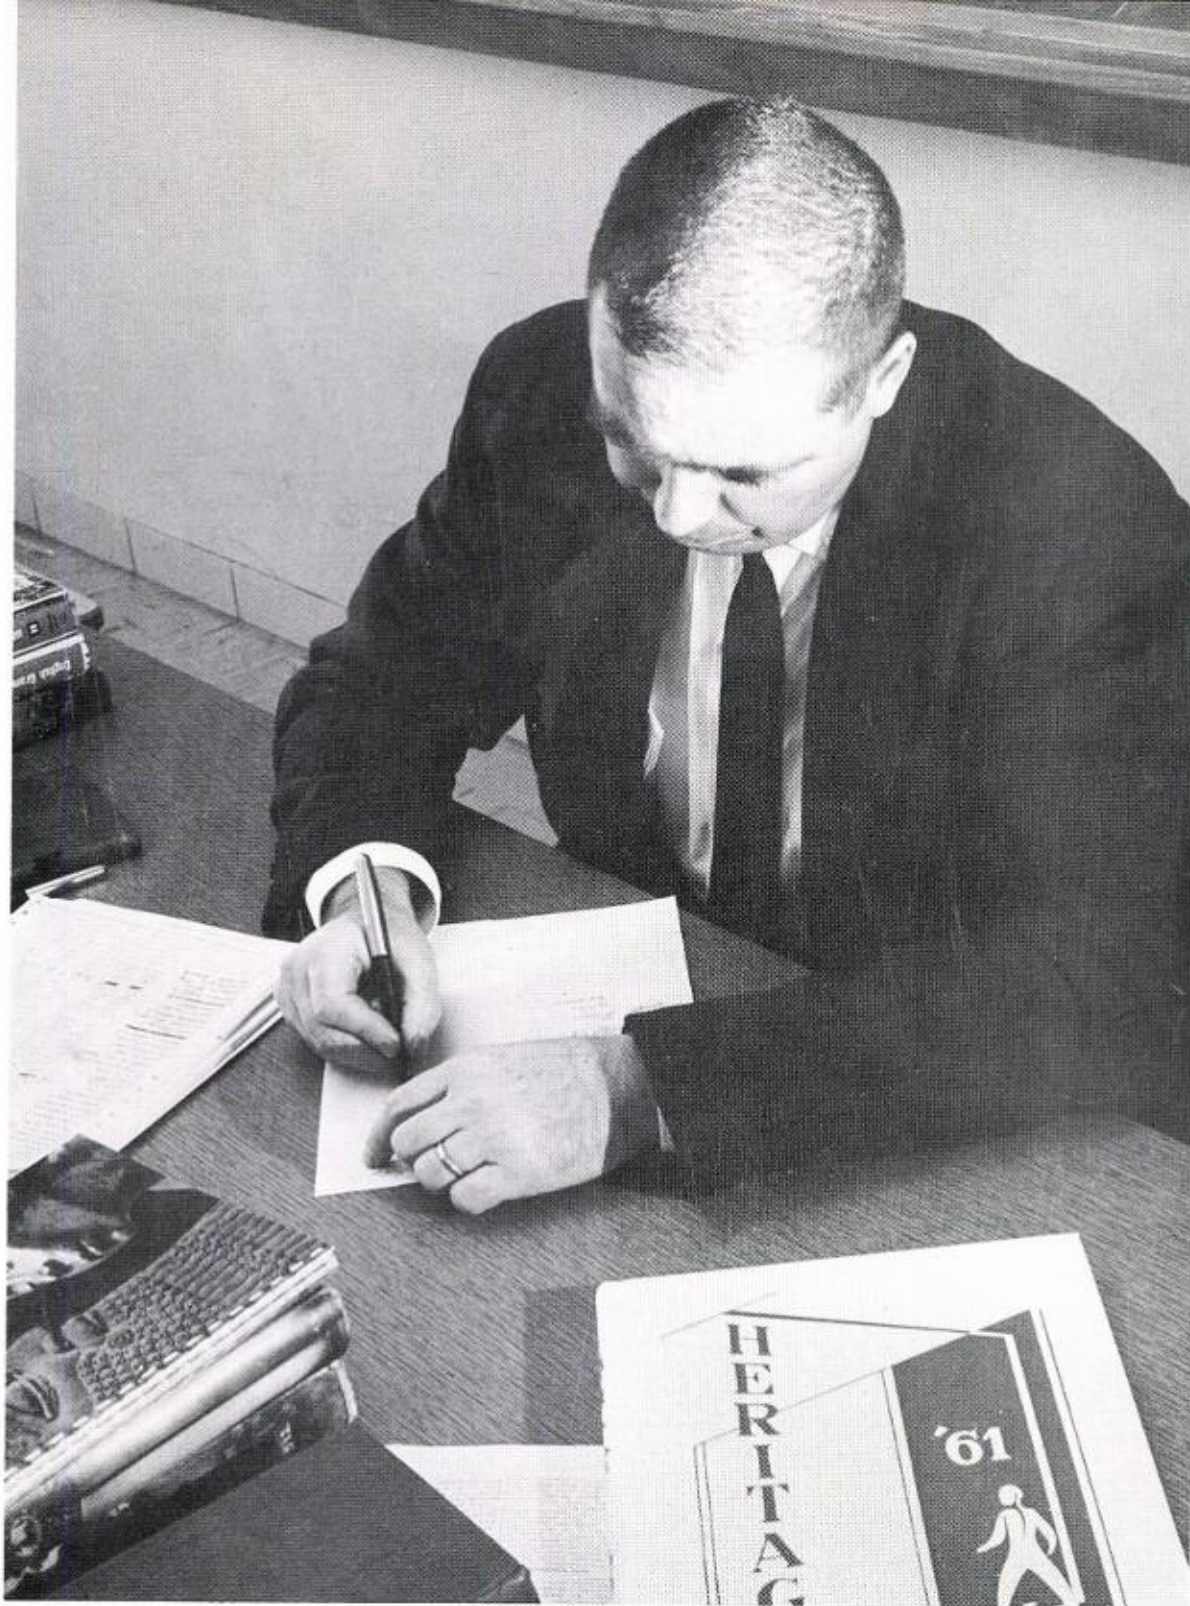

Members of the HERITAGE staff meet to discuss policy and procedure in the production of the yearbook.

Green Peppers

The main goal of the Green Peppers is to promote school spirit and enthusiasm. This can be seen at any football, basketball, or minor sports game. The Peppers served throughout the year in such functions as pep tag sales, the All-School Show, and the Father-Daughter Banquet.

The Green Peppers form into squads prior to marching in the Veterans' Day parade.

Music Groups

Many hours of practice produce George Washington's outstanding music groups. These groups, both choral and instrumental, have displayed their abilities in assemblies, and in city and state concerts.

Barbie Bowes and Claudia Curfman, members of the "Antigone" chorus, make the Greek masks to be worn in the drama.

Assisted by Carol Neill and Marshall Bloom, Chips Barry dons his costume for the role of Antigone.

Antigone

"Antigone," a Greek drama, was presented in the style of the ancient theatre by a group of Washington seniors. Produced by Marshall Bloom and under the direction of Richard Leher, the play was given for several English and history classes.

President Susie Pryor conducts a second-semester General Assembly meeting.

General Assembly

The General Assembly is made up of a representative and an alternate from each first-hour class. Meetings are held to discuss such projects as the United Fund campaign. The projects are then brought back to the student body by the representatives. Complaints and suggestions from the students are taken back to the General Assembly, where they are discussed and acted upon; thus every student is given a voice in school government.

General Assembly officers decorate a Christmas tree in the main hall.

C L U B S

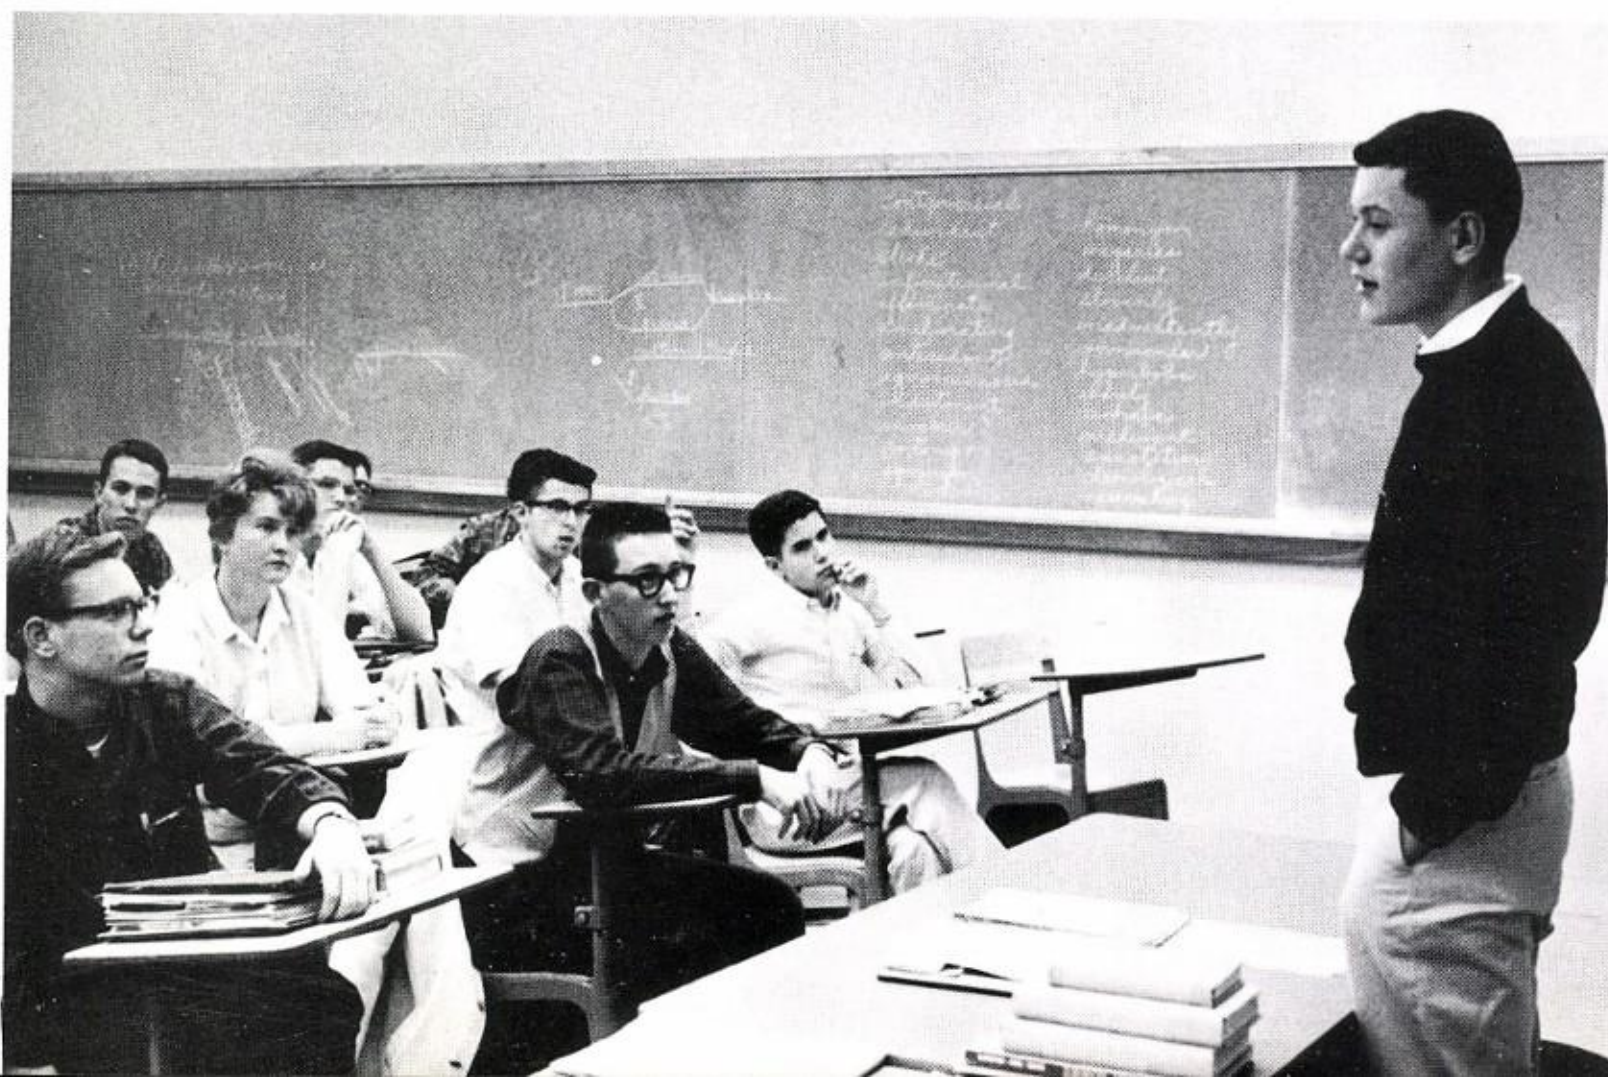

To promote fellowship, encourage goodwill and increase school spirit, the school clubs meet every other week for an hour after school. Open to all interested students, these clubs serve the local community, the school and fellow students.

A familiar sight to all club members—a treasurer collects dues for the year.

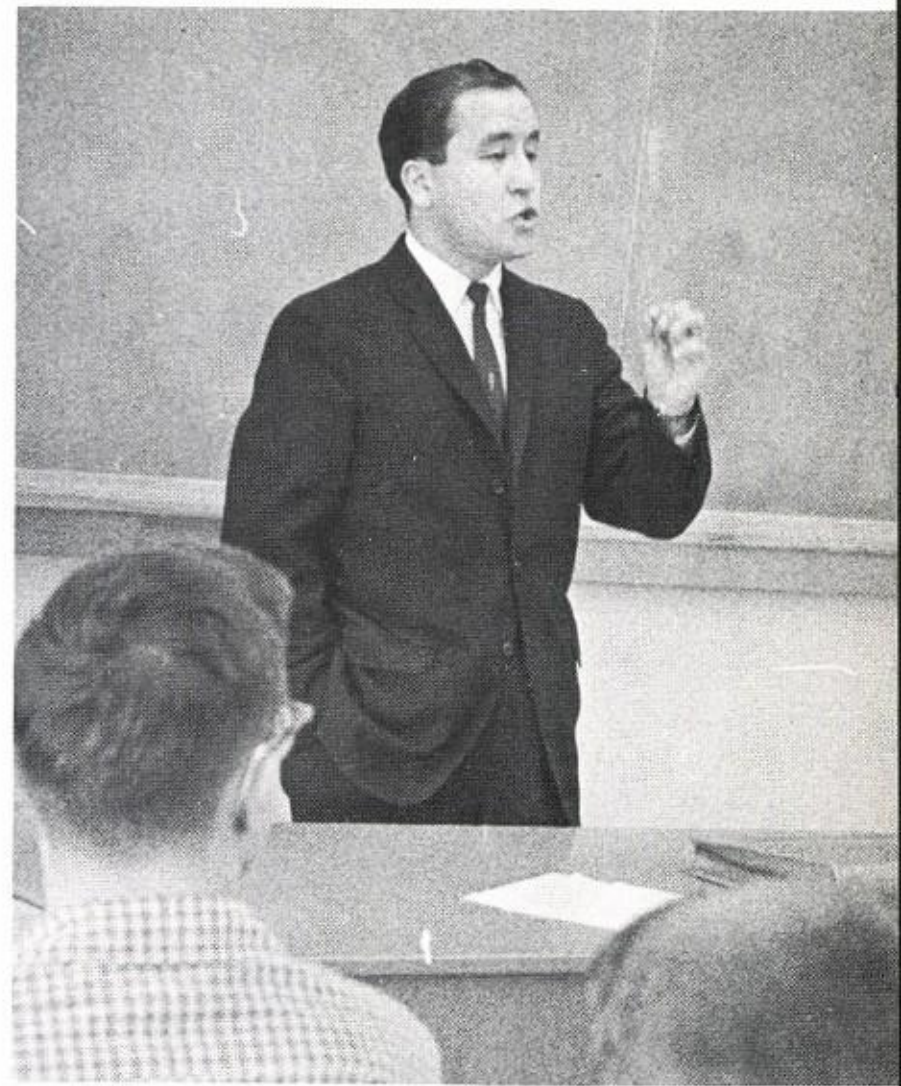

Clubs Further

The Interclub council meets to discuss problems and exchange advice on common club issues. The council, formed to promote a feeling of unity among clubs with varied interests, is comprised of the presidents from all school clubs.

Several clubs spread the Christmas spirit by giving food and clothing to needy families.

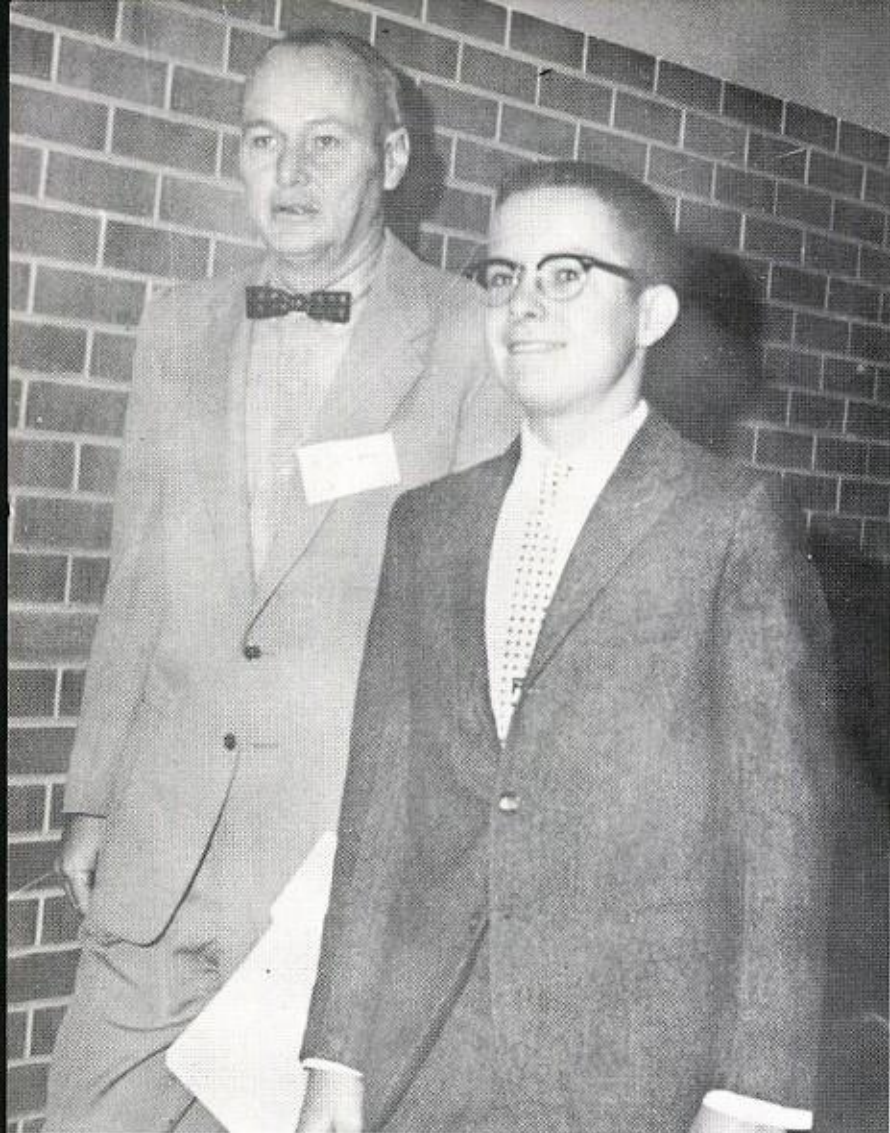

Mr. George Roybal, speaking to the Political Science Club, is an example of the many excellent speakers heard at club meetings.

Service and Fellowship

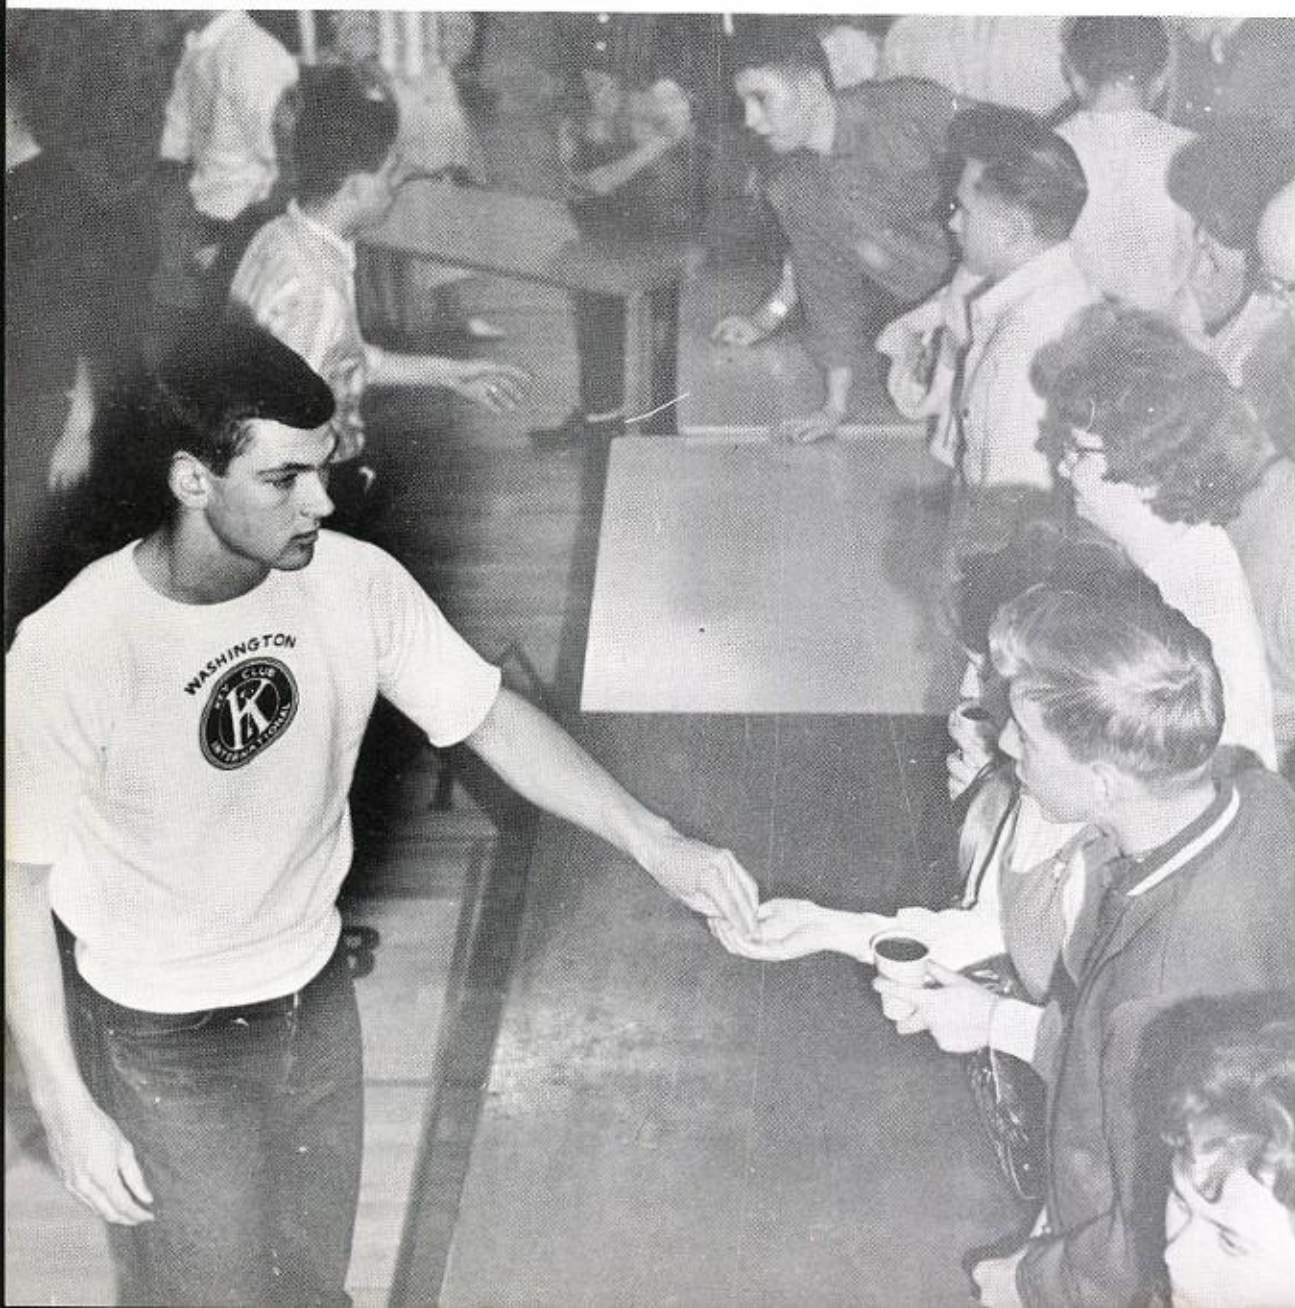

In the beginning of the year, prospective members are given the opportunity to meet the officers and to learn the year's activities at club open houses.

Frank Corbin, a member of Key Club, escorts a guest speaker to a classroom on Career Day.

Members volunteer their time to sell refreshments at home basketball games. The money is contributed to the school.

Key Club collects old clothes for the Goodwill as one of the club's annual service projects.

Key Club

The members of Washington's Key Club participated in several activities as they successfully carried out this year's theme, "Combat Complacency." By hosting a Father-son banquet, attending Kiwanis Club luncheons, and treating orphans to basketball games, the boys took part in promoting fellowship, and in developing leadership and good character.

Sharon Kniebbe, president, gives a neophyte her pin in the induction service.

Tri-Hi-Y

The purpose of Tri-Hi-Y is to create, maintain and extend throughout the home, high school and community, the high standards of Christian character.

Keeping in mind their slogan, "Pure thoughts, pure words, pure actions," the girls prepared Thanksgiving baskets for needy families, attended different religious groups, and sent delegates to Youth in Government.

Marilee Howsam, Ginny Myre and Mandy Cooper prepare bills for Youth in Government, a state convention attended by both Tri-Hi-Y and Hi-Y members.

Tri-Hi-Y decorates boxes for Thanksgiving dinners given to needy families.

Senior citizens play bingo at a monthly party.

Jr. Red Cross

Washington's Junior Red Cross Council was highly praised by the Denver chapter of the American Red Cross for its many service projects completed this year.

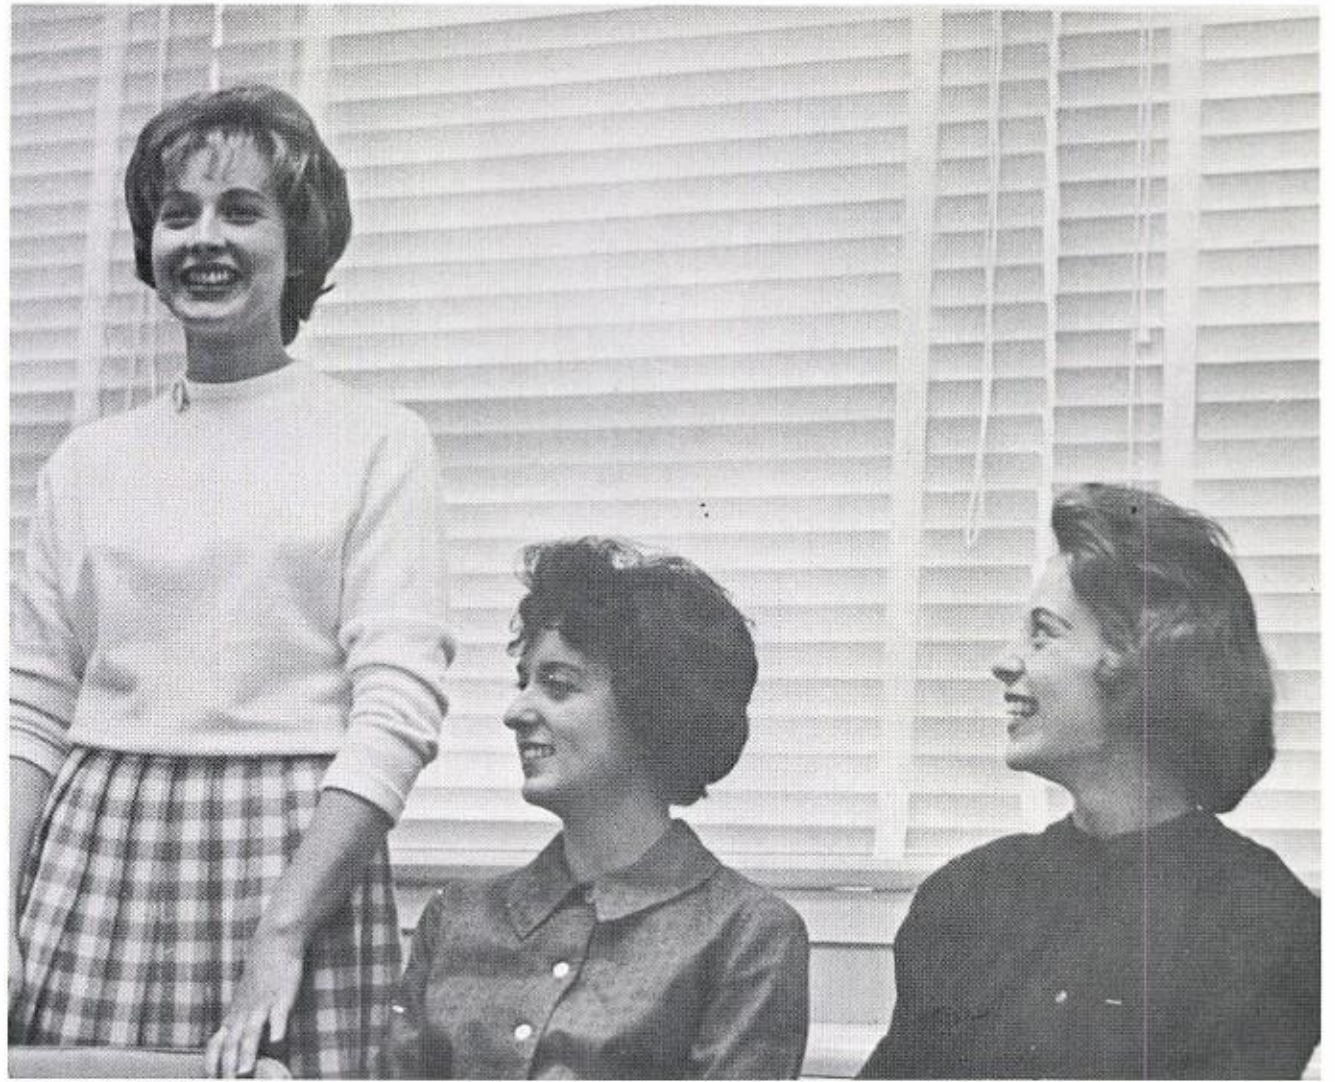

To serve the local community, members, with the aid of other volunteers, gave monthly bingo parties for the residents at Valley-Hi and Valley-Manor nursing homes, held at tea for the school's foreign students, produced talent shows at hospitals and made baby clothes for use in Denver General Hospital.

Joan and Susie Bower sort toys contributed by Washington students for the Santa Claus shop.

Volunteers are given certificates for their work in hospitals.

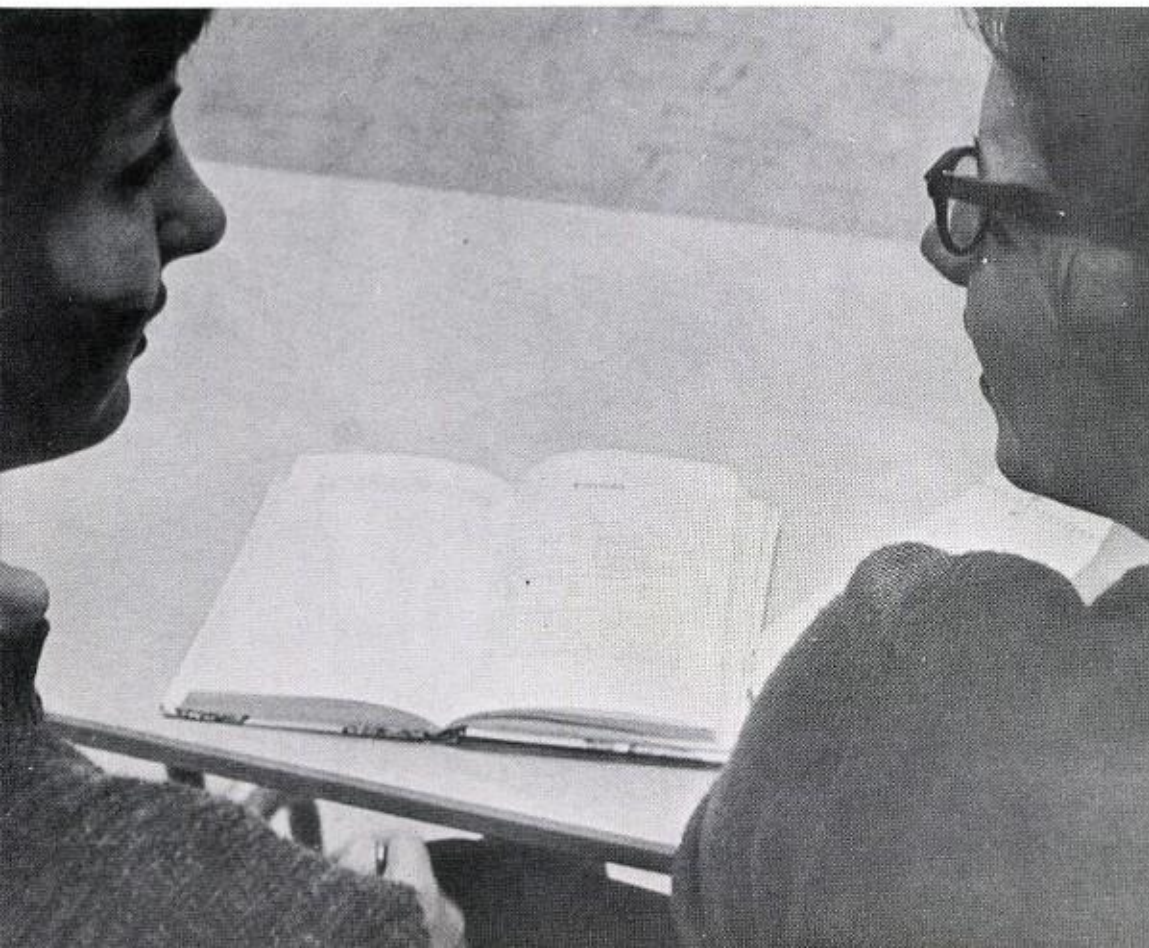

A panel of Washington student teachers discuss their reactions to teaching experiences.

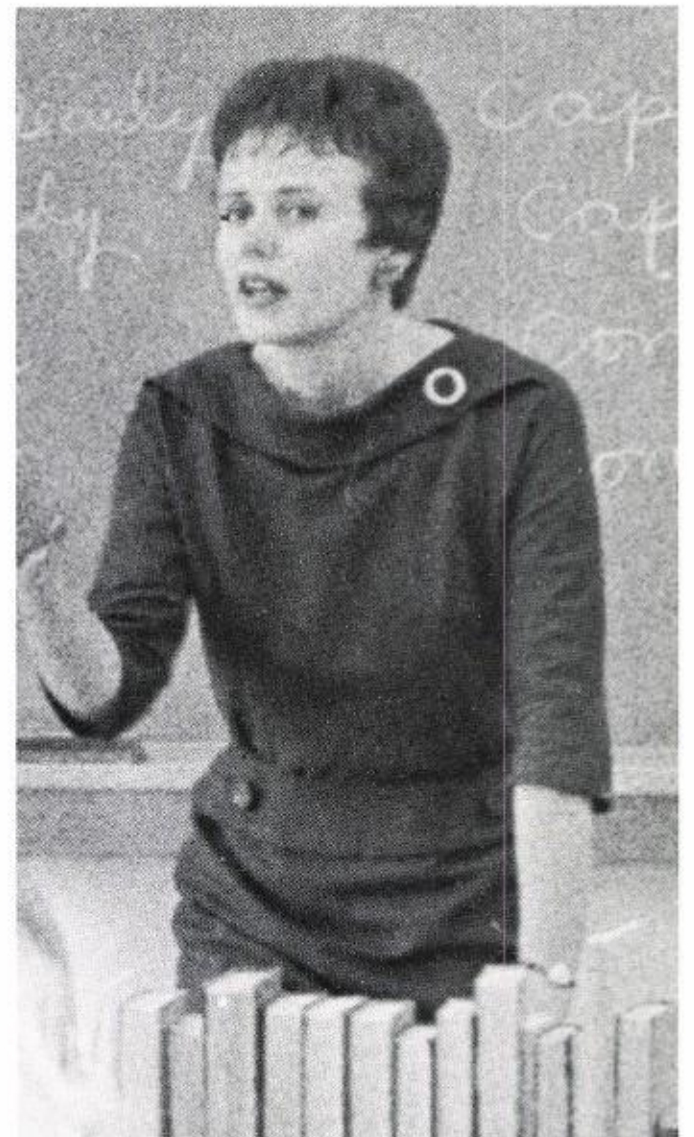

F.T.A.

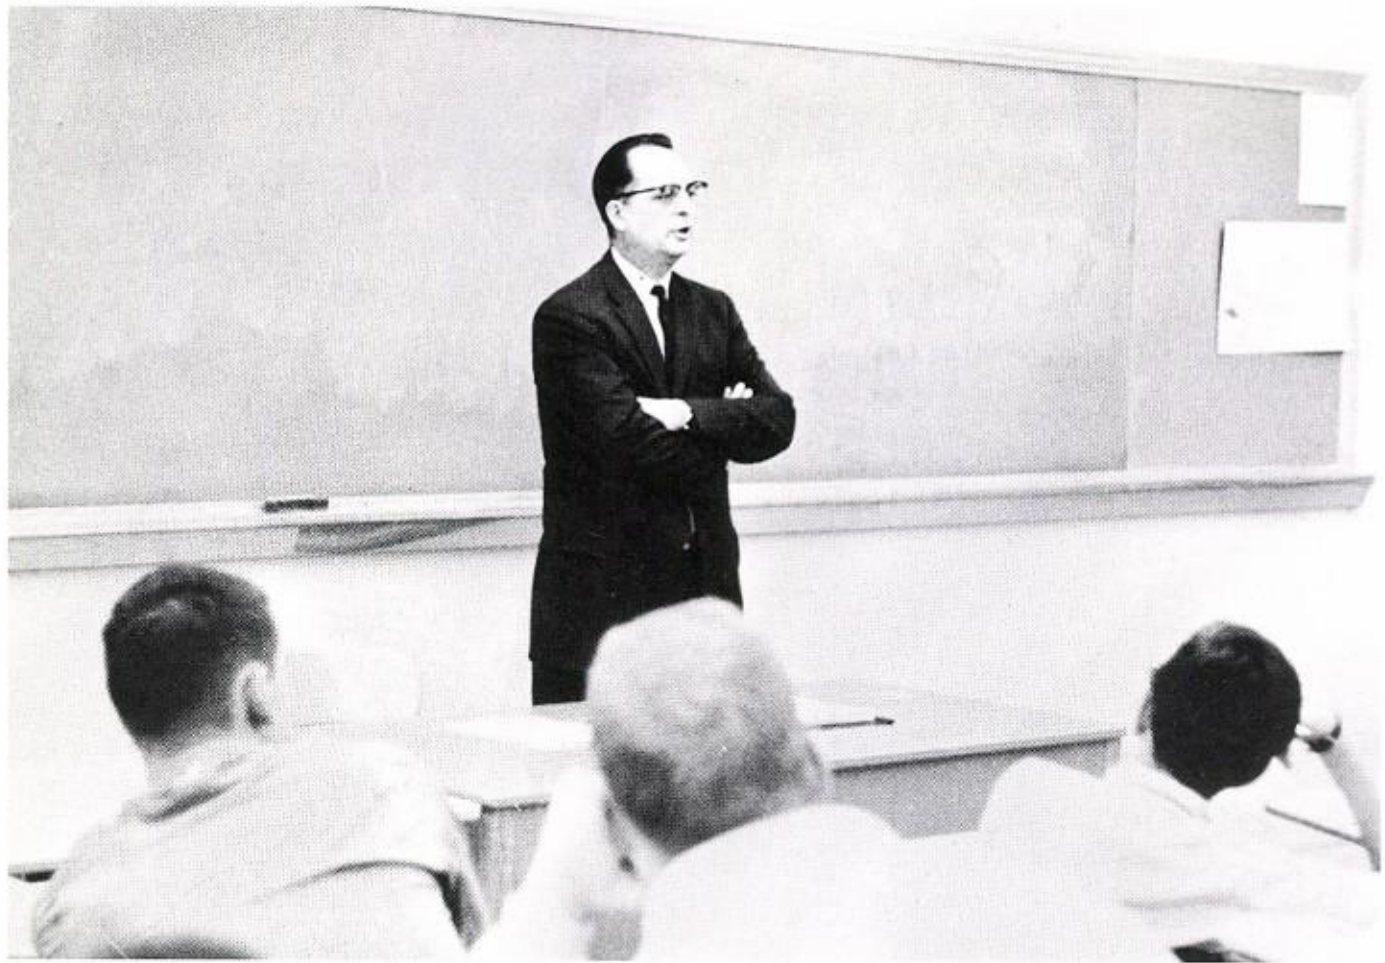

The Future Teachers of America Club shows the opportunities of the teaching profession to interested students. Members serve the school and community in every way possible, and attempt to help fellow students.

Sue Weiss helps Arlen Lazere with Spanish homework.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pixler explains the care and training of mentally retarded children.

Bob Rushmore ushers at the Heitler Oratorical Award Assembly.

Pre-Law

The purpose of the Pre-Law Club is to develop an interest in law and an appreciation of the arts.

During the summer, members enjoyed the Shakespeare Festival at the University of Colorado, and "The Pleasure of His Company" at Elitch Gardens. Visits to the Denver University Law School highlighted the year's activities.

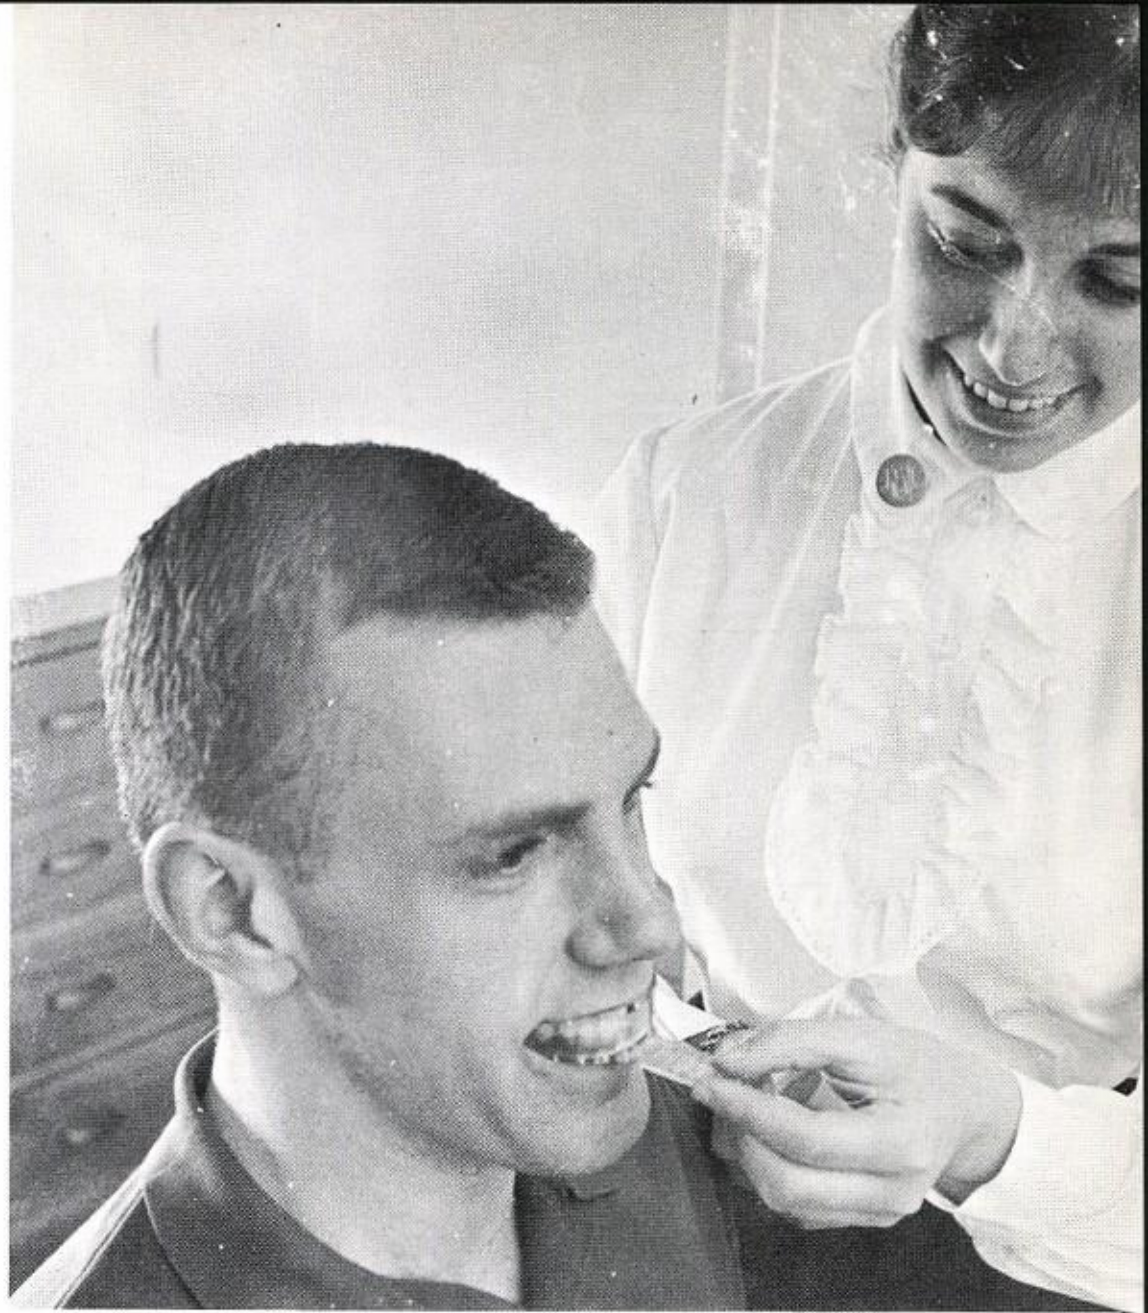

Dr. Don Smith explains the education needed for a medical vocation.

Pre-Med

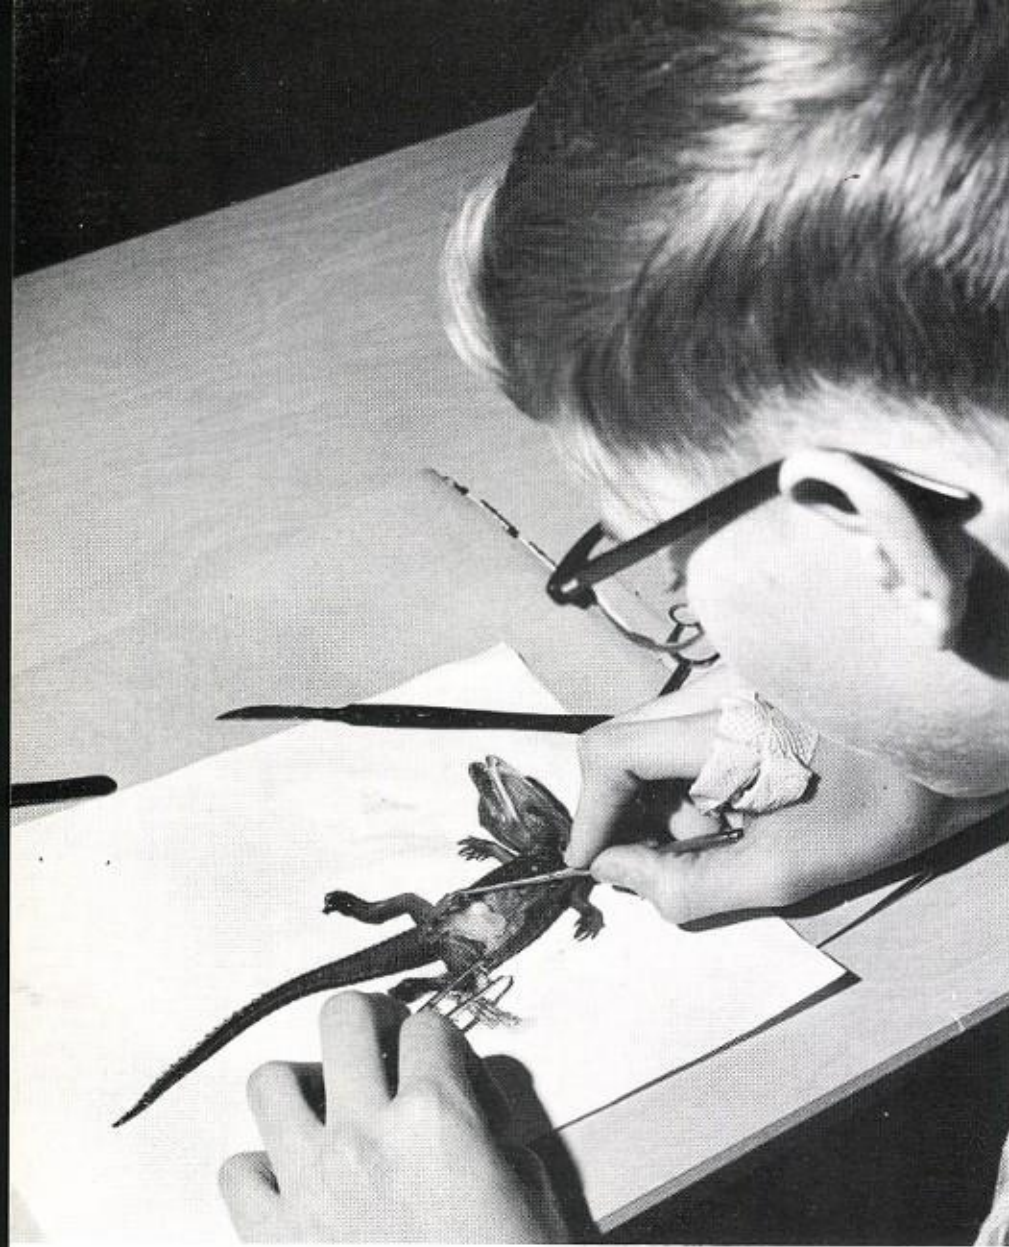

The Pre Med Club provides, for those interested in medical careers, the opportunity to become familiar with the different medical fields. Guests spoke to the members on such subjects as physical therapy, dentistry, veterinary medicine, and admission to medical schools.

As their project for the year, the club made mouth guards which are needed for all boys participating in football.

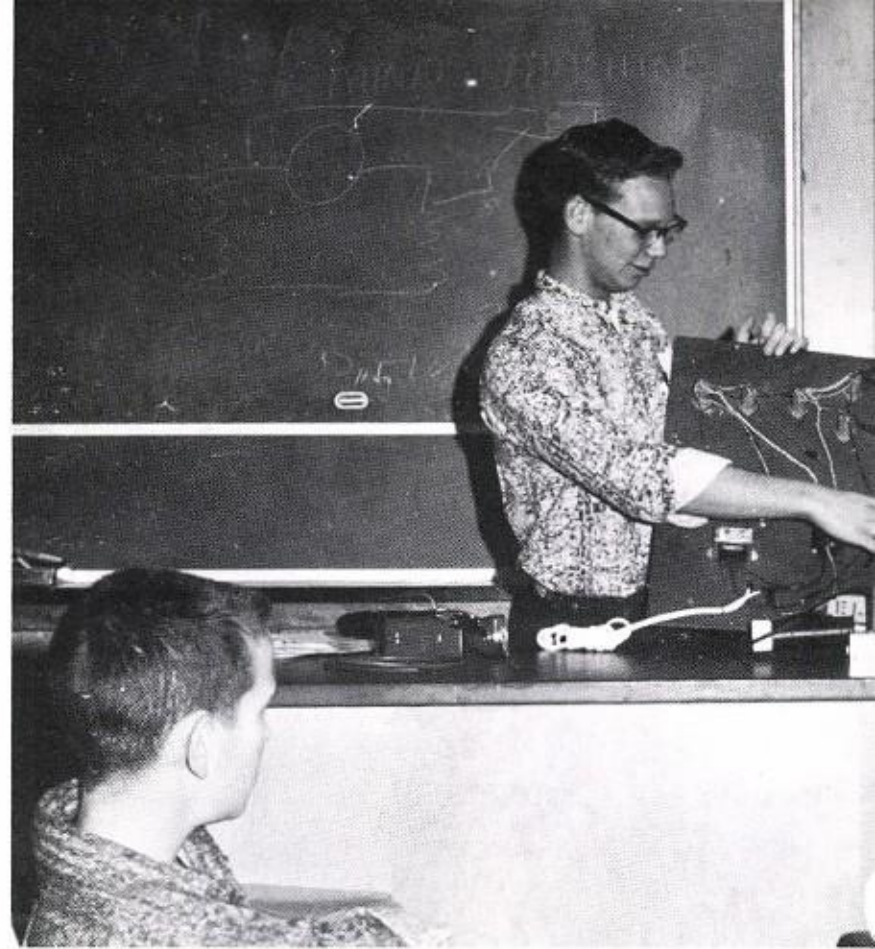

Kathy Greig takes a dental impression of John Adams for a mouth guard.

To study bone structure, Jim Durkee dissects an alligator.

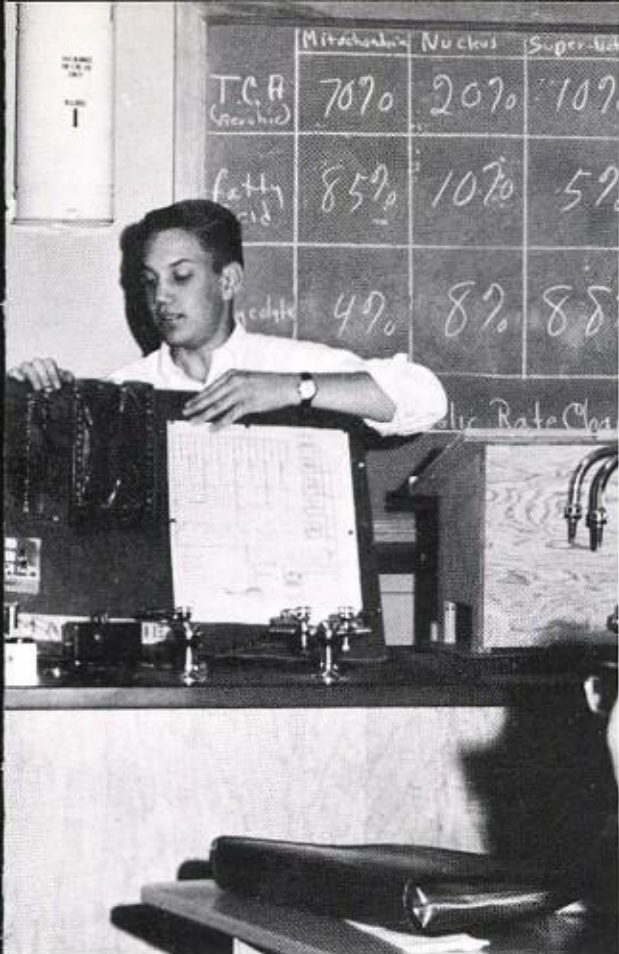

Bob Kahn and Steve Flax explain their electrical computer project.

Science

The Science Club offers to each of its members the opportunity to pursue his own scientific interests. During the year the club undertook projects and presented their completed work for discussion and criticism.

Members of the Science Club inspect the equipment in the physics lab.

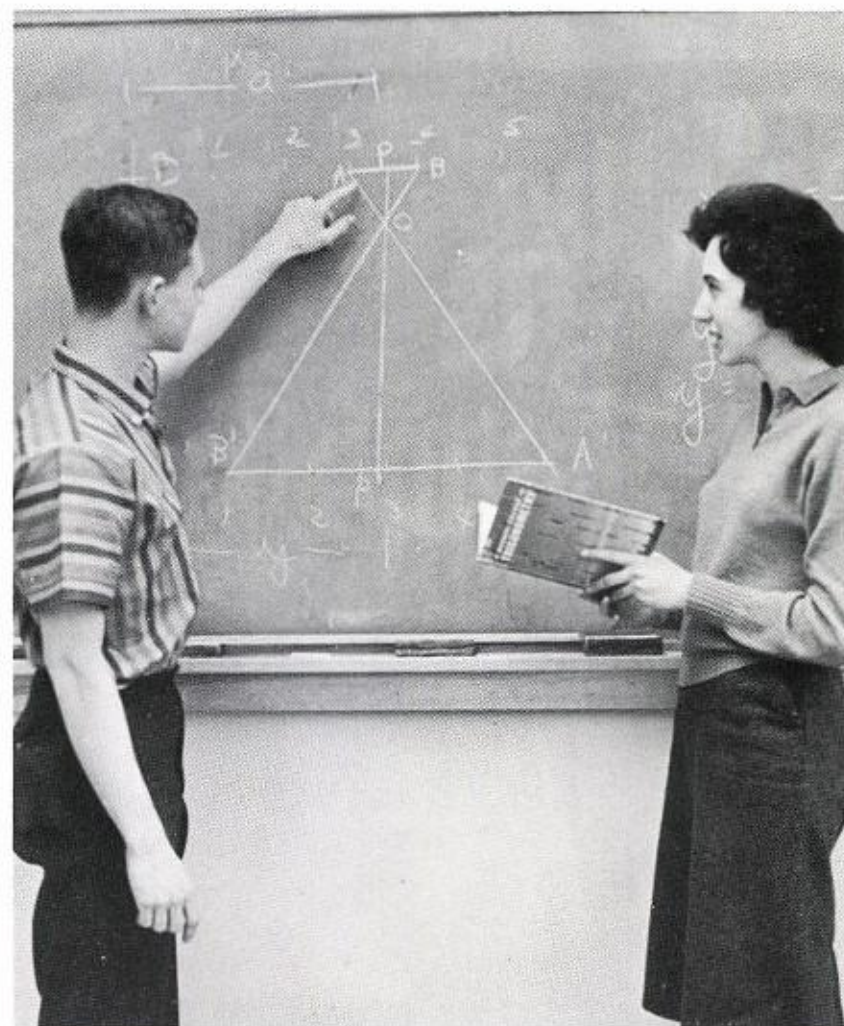

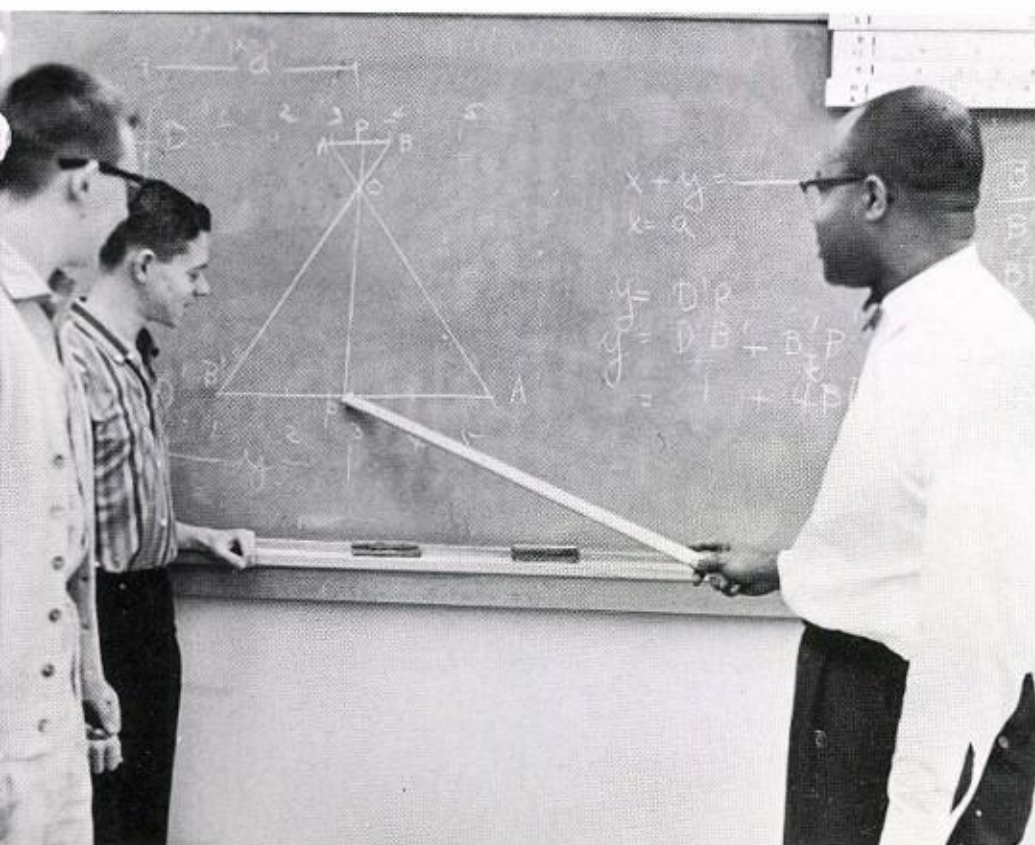

Dr. Ruth Hoffman illustrates the use of an abacus.

Math Club

The function of the Math Club is to stimulate and intensify interest in mathematics. The members heard Mr. Vaughan Aandahl and Dr. Ruth Hoffman speak on specific topics of Geometry and Algebra, and also went on a field trip to the Denver Research Institute.

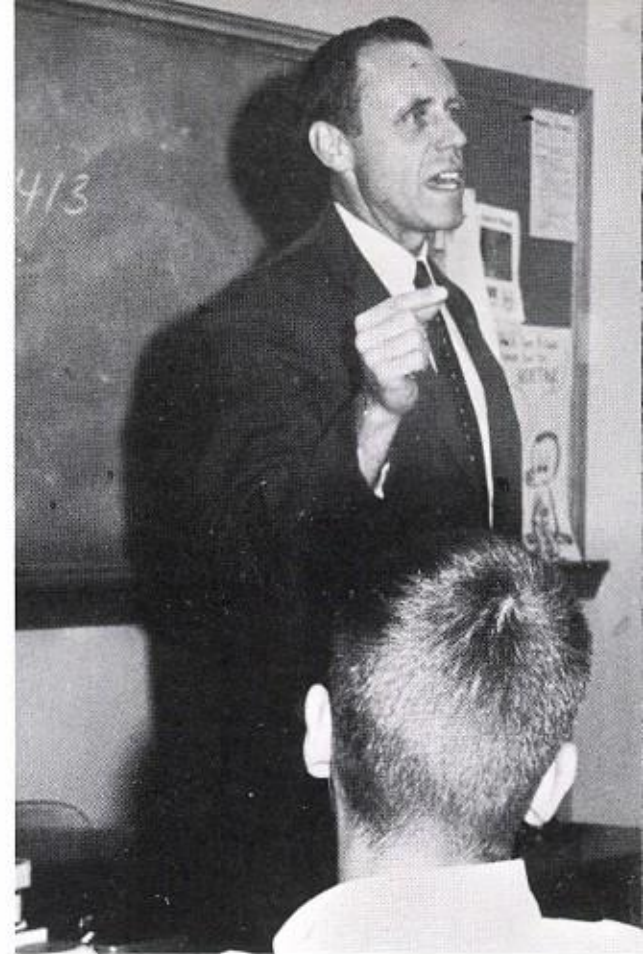

Dr. Jose Fávole, a Cuban, speaks to a group of International Relations and Spanish Club members on present conditions in Cuba.

Members discuss the club's theme for the year, "The Challenge of Latin America."

At a visit to a Chinese restaurant, Janet Parkhurst samples food in Oriental style.

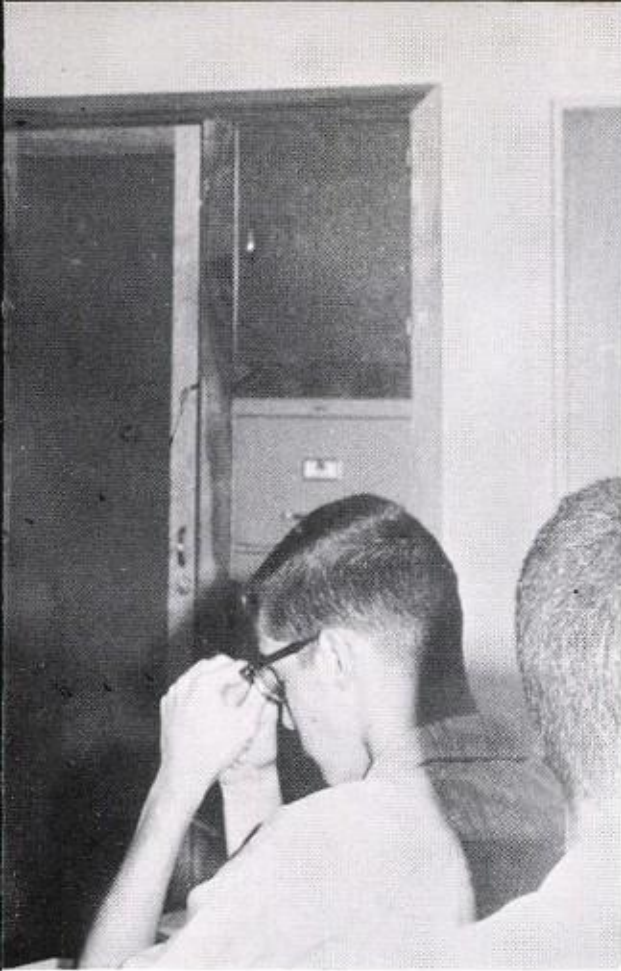

International Relations

The International Relations Club aims to promote a further understanding of the different peoples and governments of the world. To carry out this objective, members attended conferences on world events and heard distinguished speakers on various aspects of world problems and affairs.

Political Science

To fulfill the club's purposes of exploring various political ideologies and developing in its members an intellectual interest in political science, the members of the Political Science Club heard many speakers. These guests discussed such topics as federal aid to education and socialized medicine.

Former Senator Herrick Roth speaks to the club about federal aid to education.

Mr. Richard Burkey explains the concept of power struggles to Political Science members.

Symposium

Symposium aims to broaden the intellect of its members and to provide the opportunity to hear and take part in mentally stimulating discussions and debates. During the year the club heard several speakers, including Mr. Richard Burkey and Dr. George Lucas from Colorado School of Mines.

Mr. Aandahl leads a discussion on Kid-jel's Callipers.

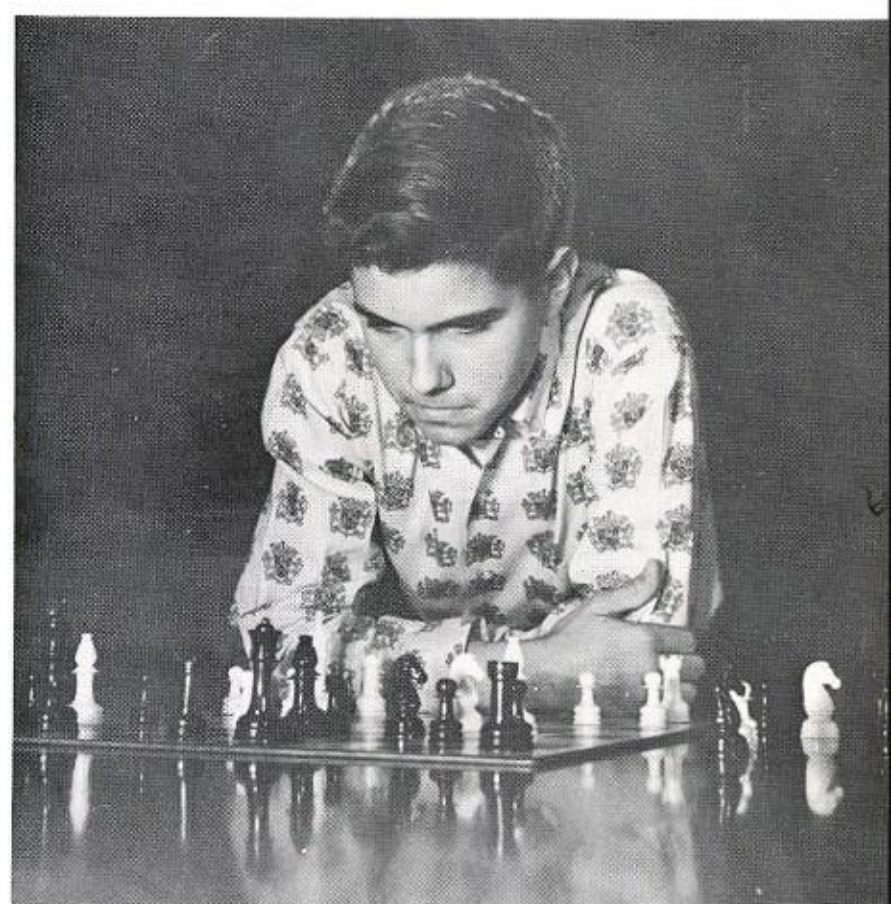

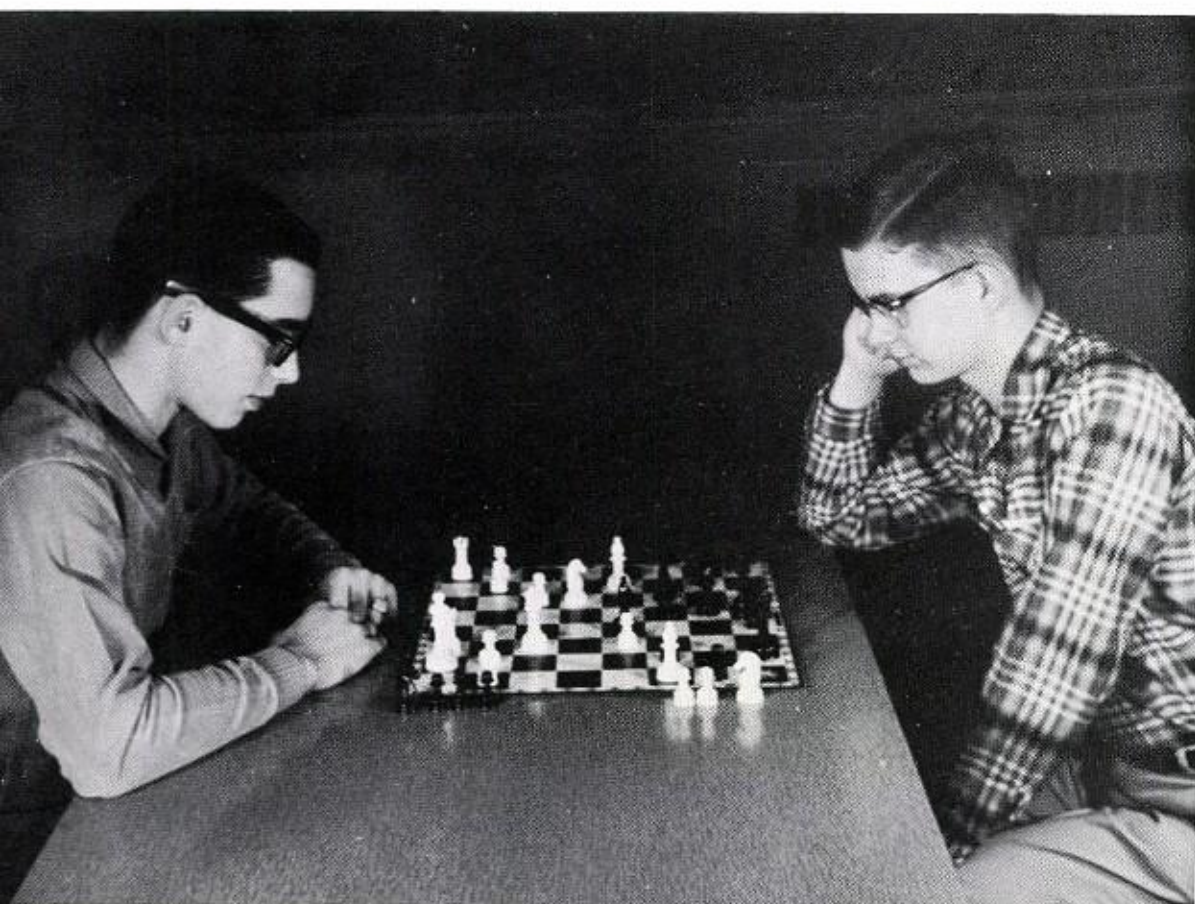

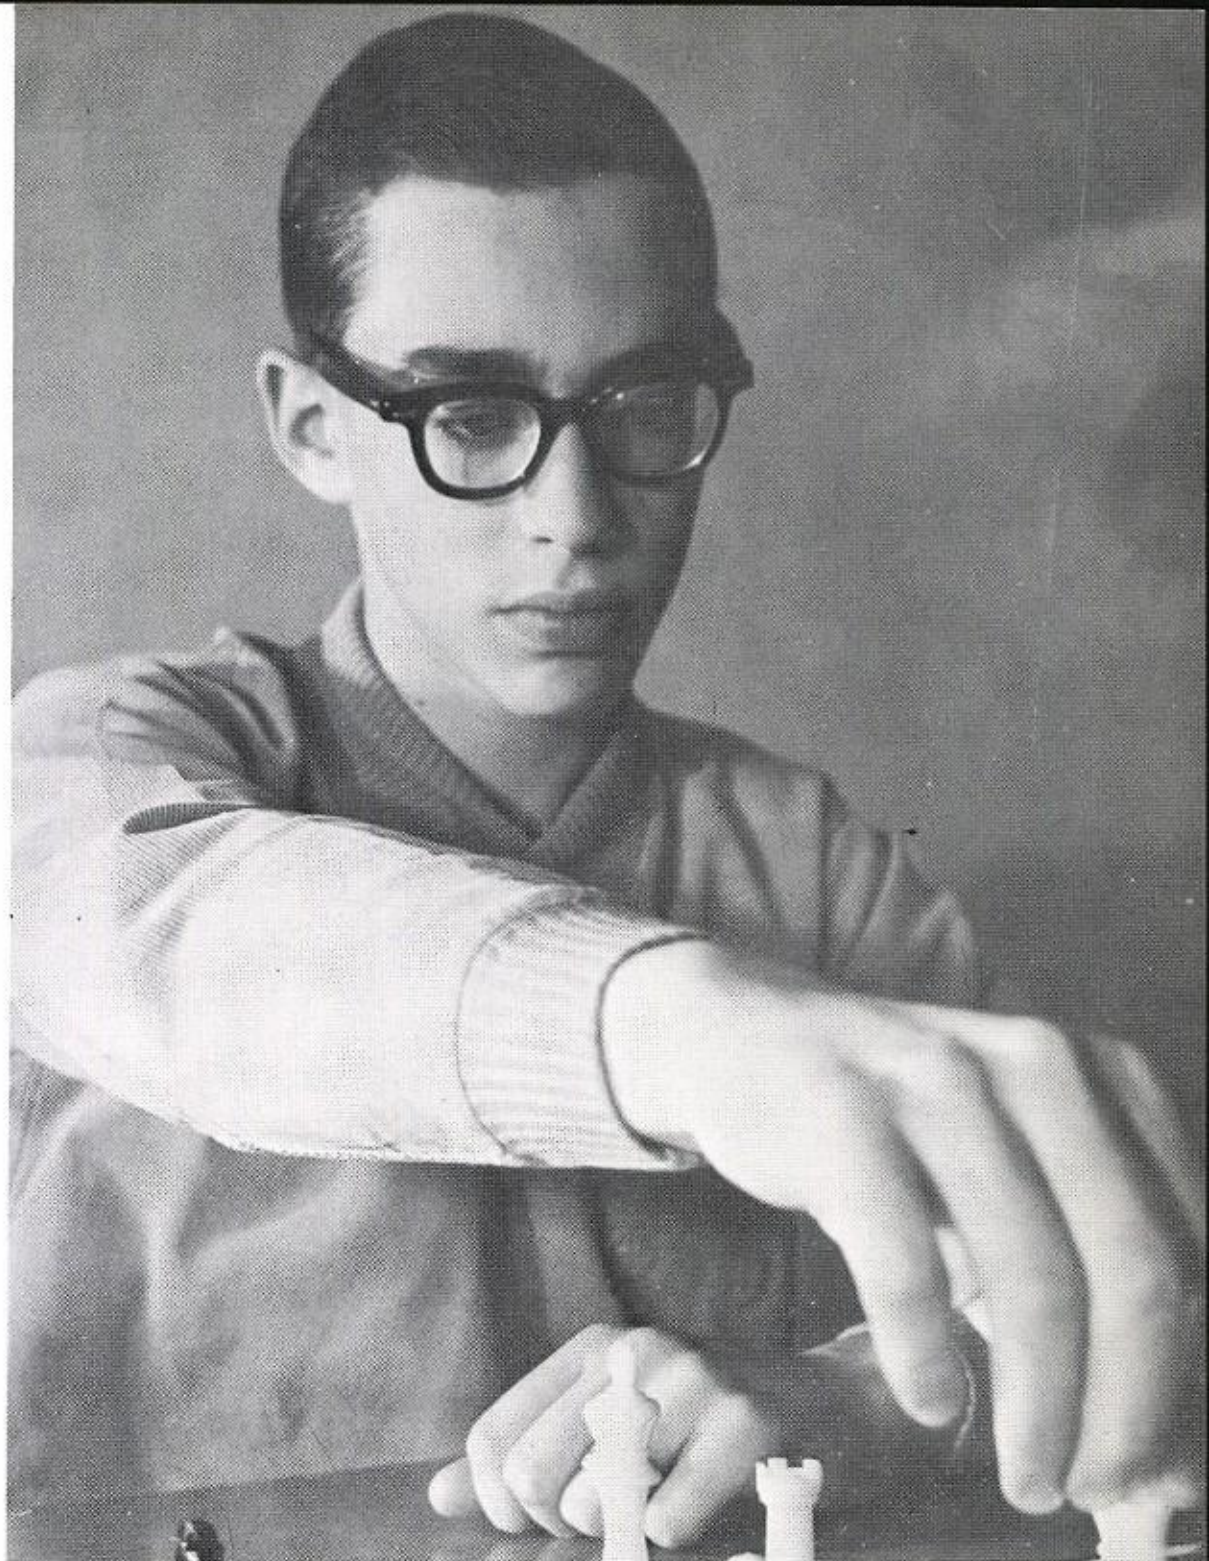

Dr. Lucas, Colorado School of Mines, explains the necessity of a closer union between the humanities and science.

Chess

The Chess Club endeavors to improve the skill of its members and to promote the popularity of chess. During the year, they participated in tournaments with chess clubs from neighboring schools as well as in interclub tournaments.

Mrs. Fern Rives Simpson reviews her book FRIDAY, THANK GOD at a Delphian meeting.

An empty desk is observed by Hyla Gross as part of an experiment in writing.

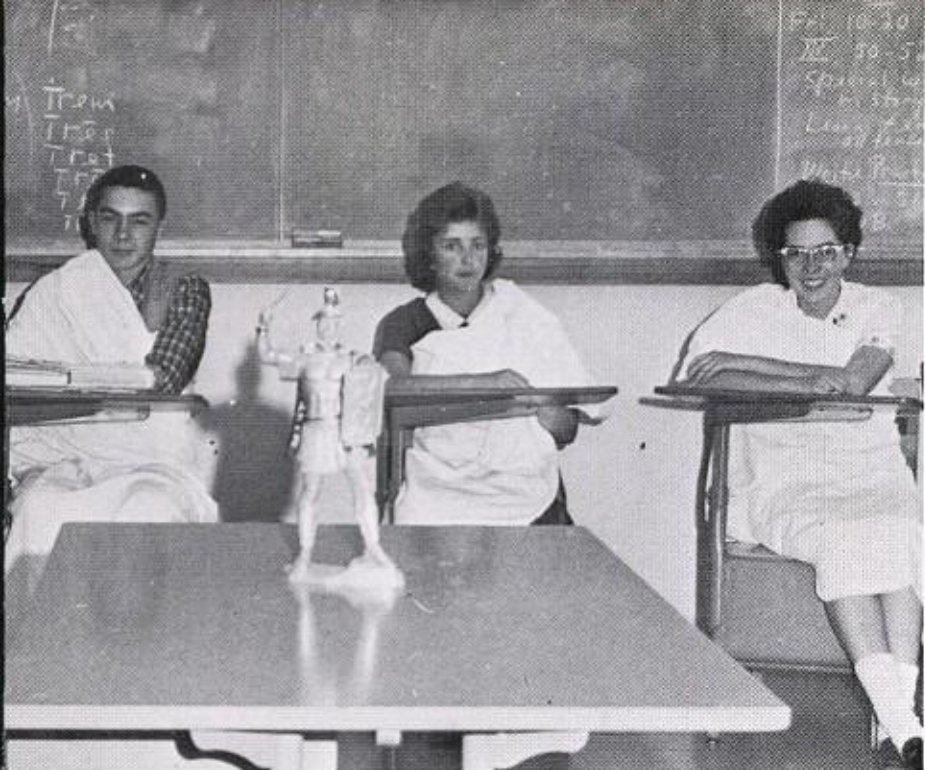

Delphian

Delphian, the literary club, offers its members the opportunity to examine, interpret and discuss various types of literary works.

Several projects were planned throughout the year to give Delphian members experience in different writing techniques.

The experiment is interpreted and discussed.

Clad in togas, members discuss the history and culture of Ancient Rome.

J.C.L.

Members of the Junior Classical League, which is part of a national organization, gain a more thorough knowledge of classical life, history, literature and the values of Latin and Greek. Both beginning and advanced Latin students strive to effectively carry out the purpose of J.C.L. which is "To hand on the torch of classical civilization in the modern world."

At the annual Saturnalia party members exchange gifts.

Led by Mrs. Munsell and Miss Royce, the members hold a discussion in Spanish.

Terre Dorward gives assistance in Spanish grammar to a beginning Spanish student.

Spanish

To further understand the cultures of Spanish-speaking countries, the Spanish Club viewed slides of Mexico, attended a Spanish folk dancing concert, and heard Dr. Jose Favole, a recent immigrant, explain present conditions in Cuba.

"Aah!"

"Ooh!"

"Eeu!"

French

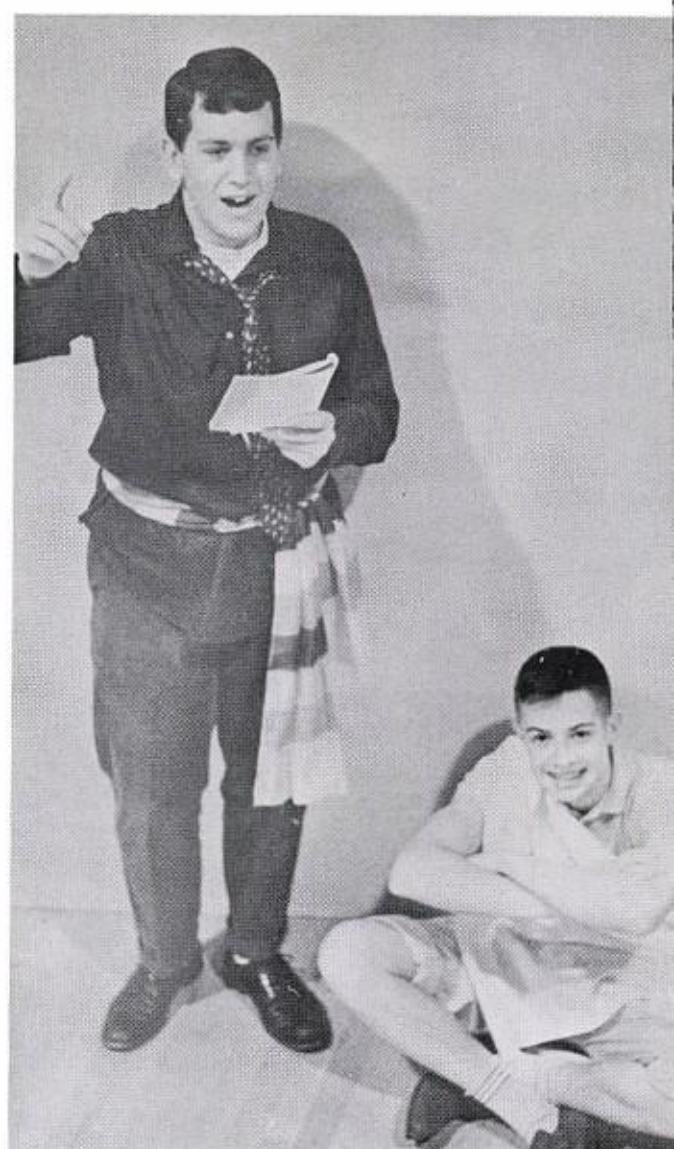

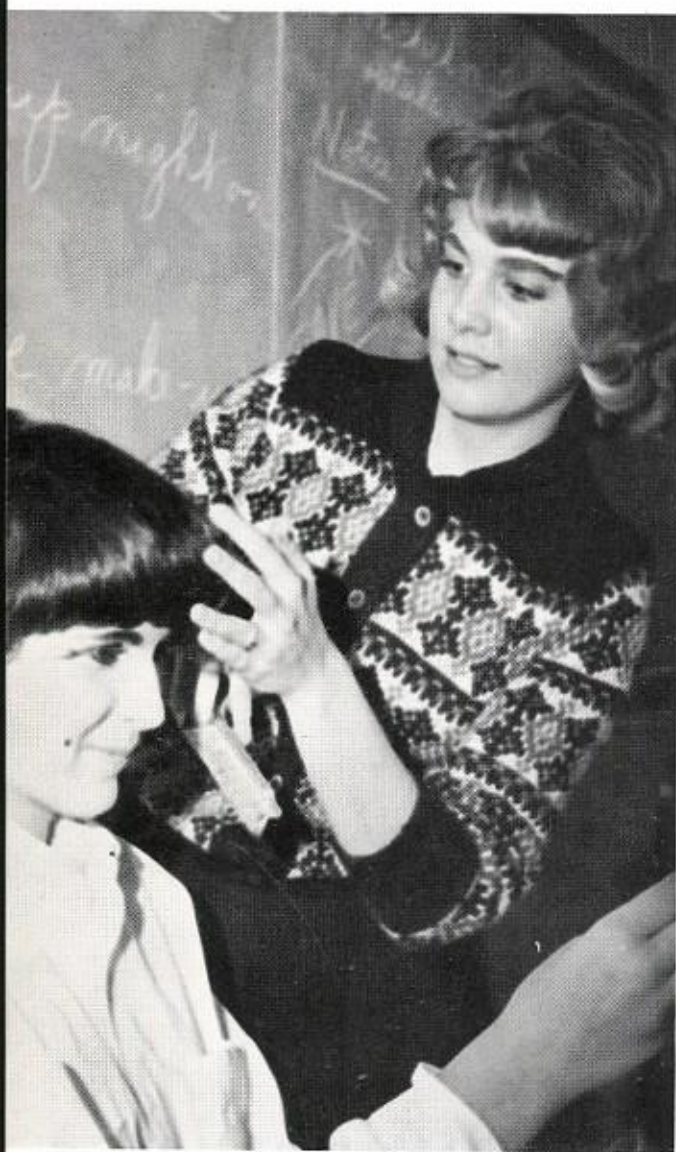

The ambition of the French Club is to study French culture and to improve skill in pronunciation and interpretation of French. The club's various activities included a lecture by Sara Shreve, who recently visited France, films showing the French and their customs, news commentaries in French, the preparation of French food, and correspondence with students in Brest, France.

To gain a broader French background, members read French publications.

Sara Shreve displays souvenirs collected on her recent trip to France.

Patriot players learn that many hours of diligent practice are necessary before a production may be presented.

Receiving directions from Mrs. Shay, the cast rehearses a scene from "You Can't Take It With You."

Patriot Players

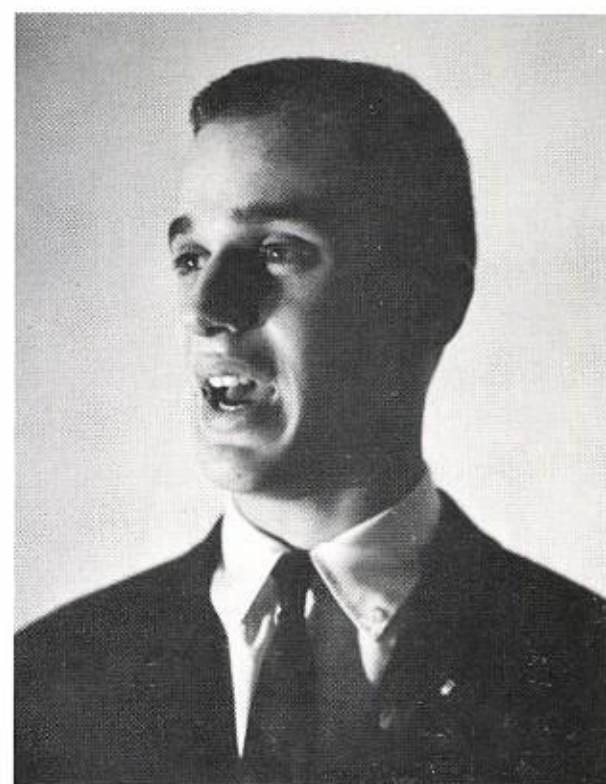

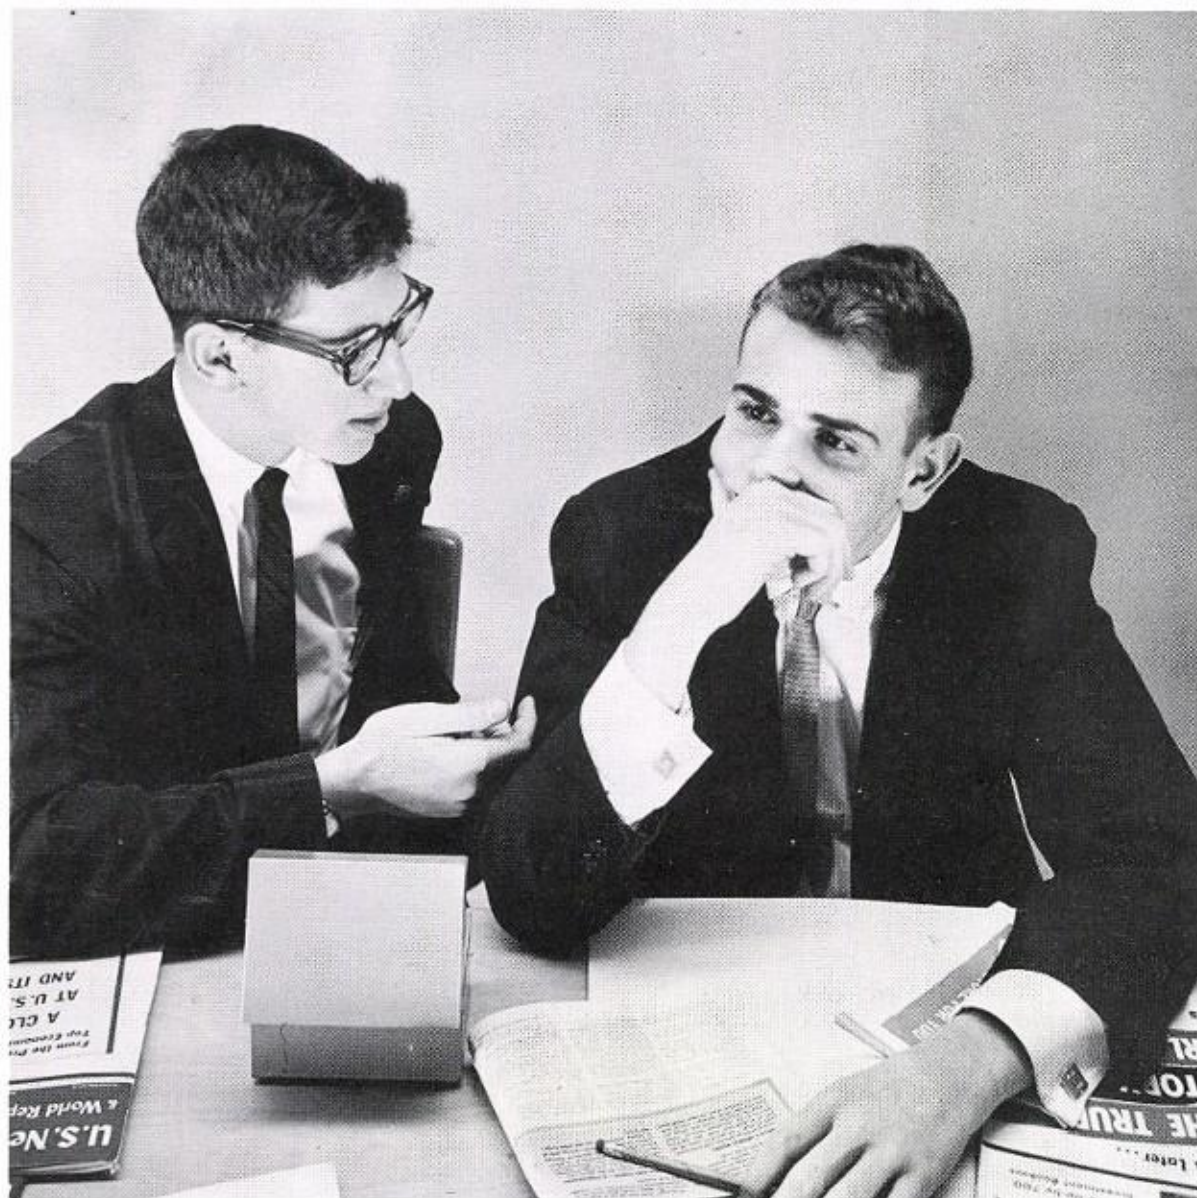

The drama club develops skill in both dramatic expression and production. To help broaden their theatrical understanding, the Patriot Players attended several plays in the Denver area.

In the spring the club performed the three-act comedy, "You Can't Take It With You." This play not only provided entertainment for the audience but also gave the Patriot Players experience in acting, stage work, make-up and direction. Also, this year the club was initiated into the National Thespian Society.

Forensic

The Forensic Club provides for its members the opportunity to gain experience in the art and value of speaking. Members prepared to represent Washington at the various speech meets in fields of interpretation, original oratory, extemporaneous speaking, discussion and debate.

Ron Berenbeim . . .

Dottie Hubble . . .

and Rick Caldwell compete at a Denver area speech meet.

Denver artist Nadine Drummond demonstrates water color technique.

Art

The Art Club encourages those interested in art and provides an opportunity for the exploration of different artistic fields. During the year the club concentrated on watercolor through individual projects.

Music

The Music Club presents many opportunities to those with musical interests. The members demonstrated their talents during several of the meetings. Also, to further broaden their musical background, they listened to recordings and attended concerts and music events.

Model Teens serve refreshments at their annual Christmas tea.

Karen Fralick and Cindy Arndt try out for the spring fashion show, which was sponsored by Cates First Avenue.

Model Teens

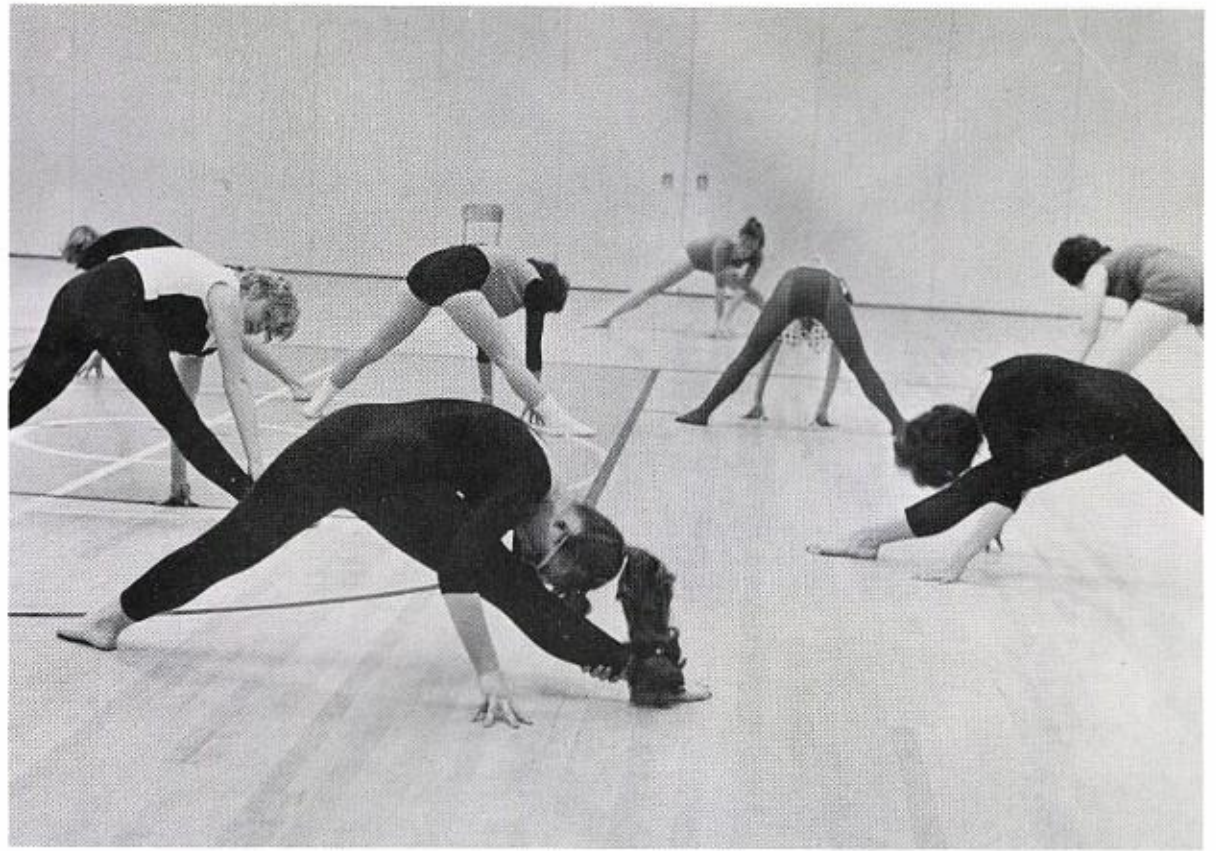

Self-improvement is the goal of each girl in the Model Teens Club. At the meetings special attention is paid to techniques in the development of poise and good grooming.

A representative from Neusteter's demonstrates the correct procedure in applying make-up.

Modern Dance

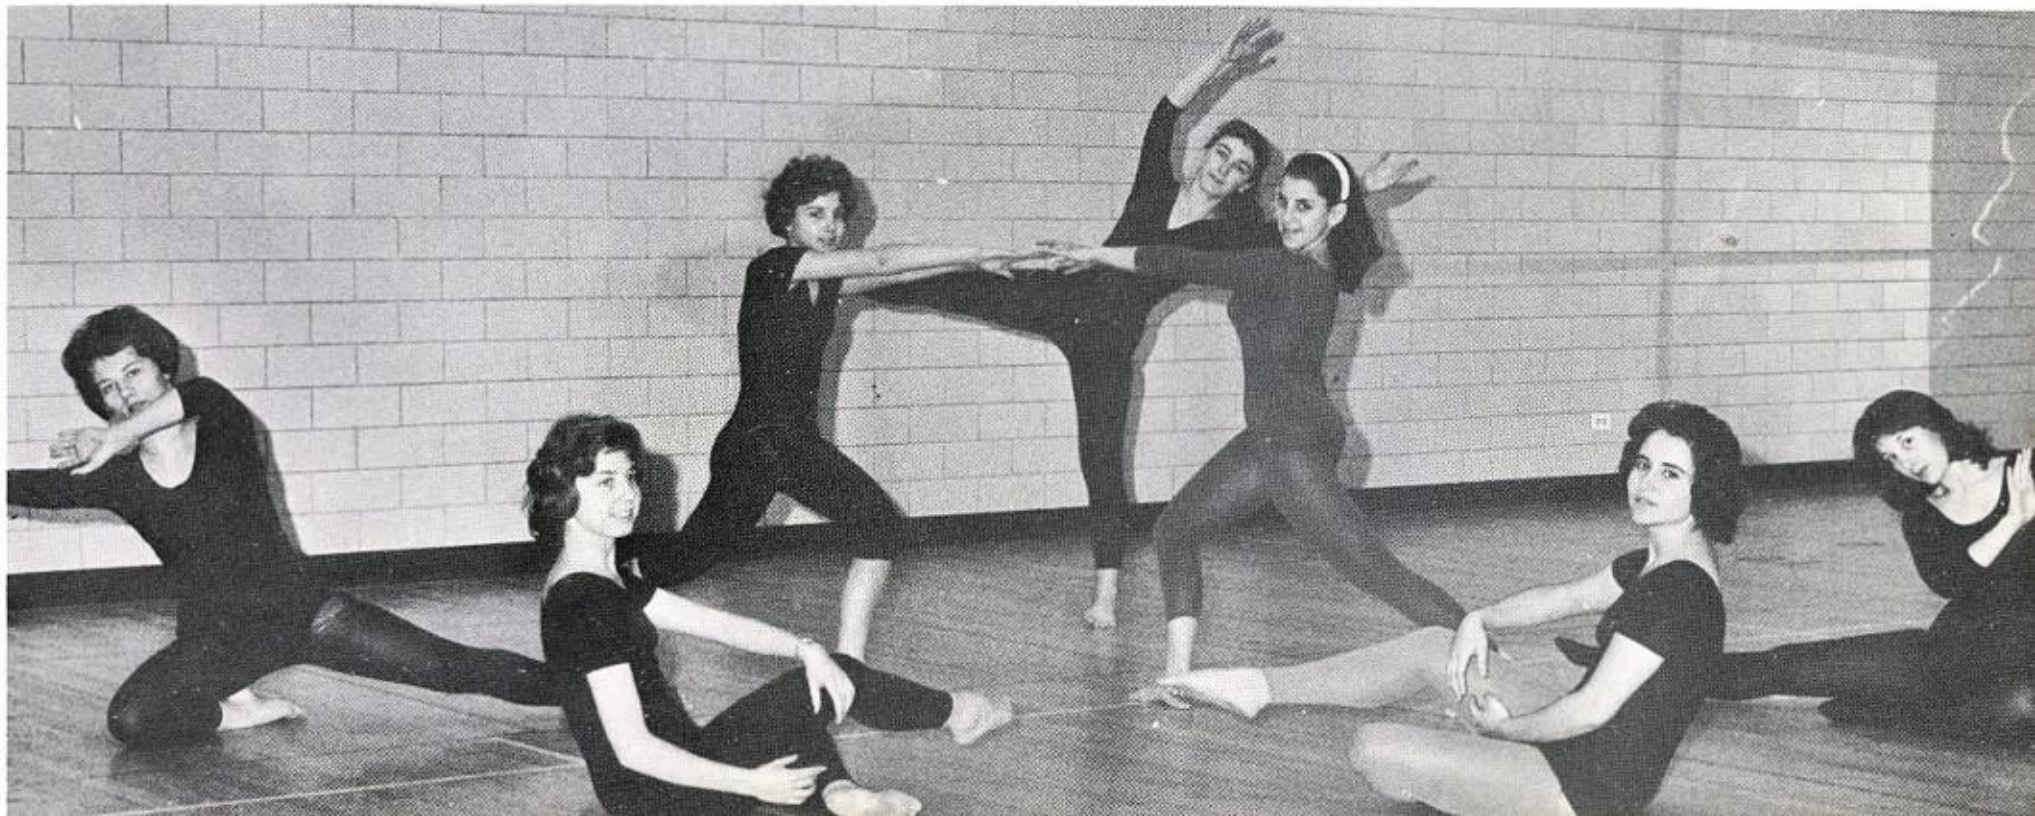

New ideas in rhythm patterns and techniques are presented at each meeting of the Modern Dance Club. These ideas are then used in the composition groups in which the members choreograph their own dances.

Girls' Rifle

The members of the Girls' Rifle Club learn accuracy and skill in handling rifles at their weekly practices. Throughout the year, they participated in tournaments with rifle clubs from other Denver high schools.

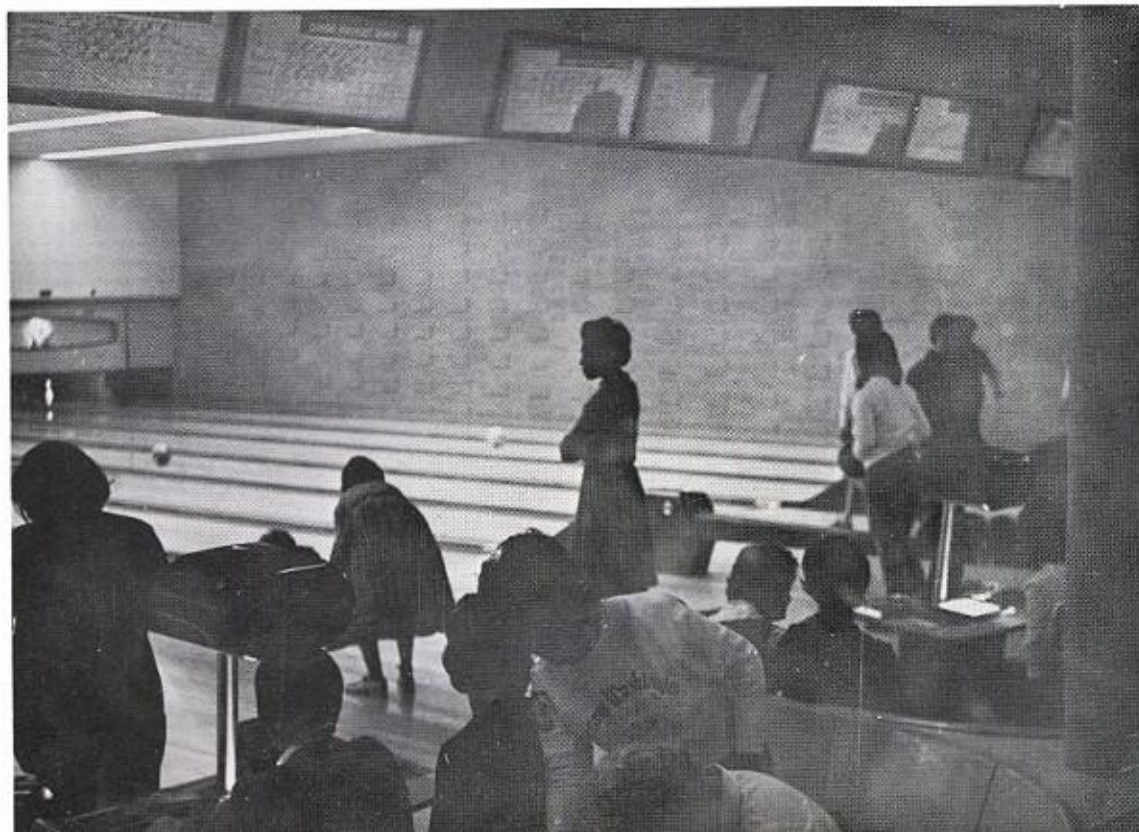

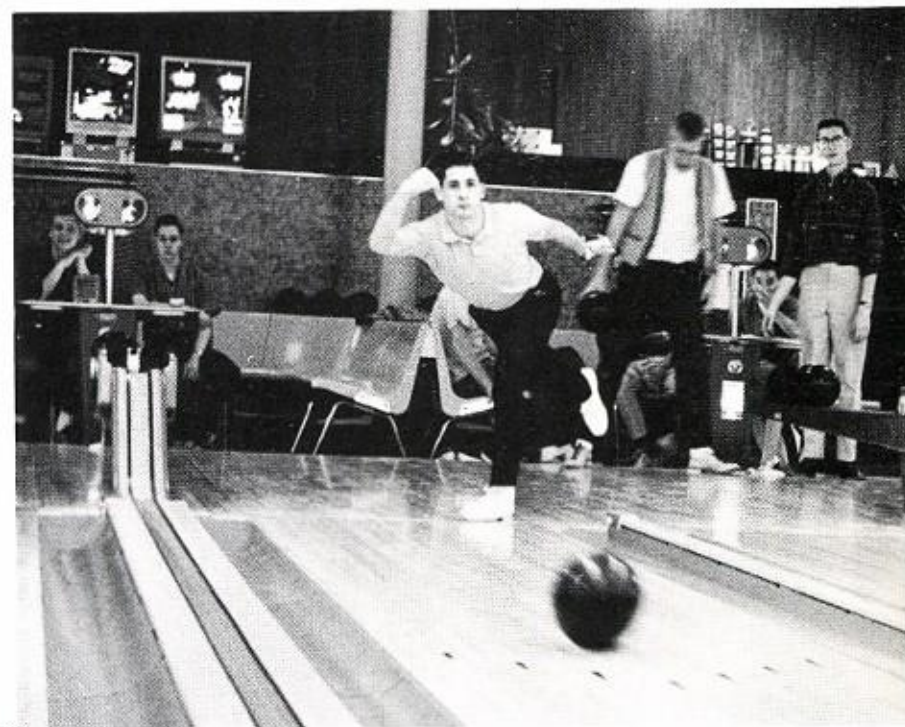

Colonel Zalesky prepares the Girls' Rifle Club for a future meet.

Bowling

The members of the Bowling Clubs improved their skill and form at their weekly practices and took part in tournaments both within the club and with other schools.

The Girls' Bowling Club meets at Monaco Lanes for its weekly practice.

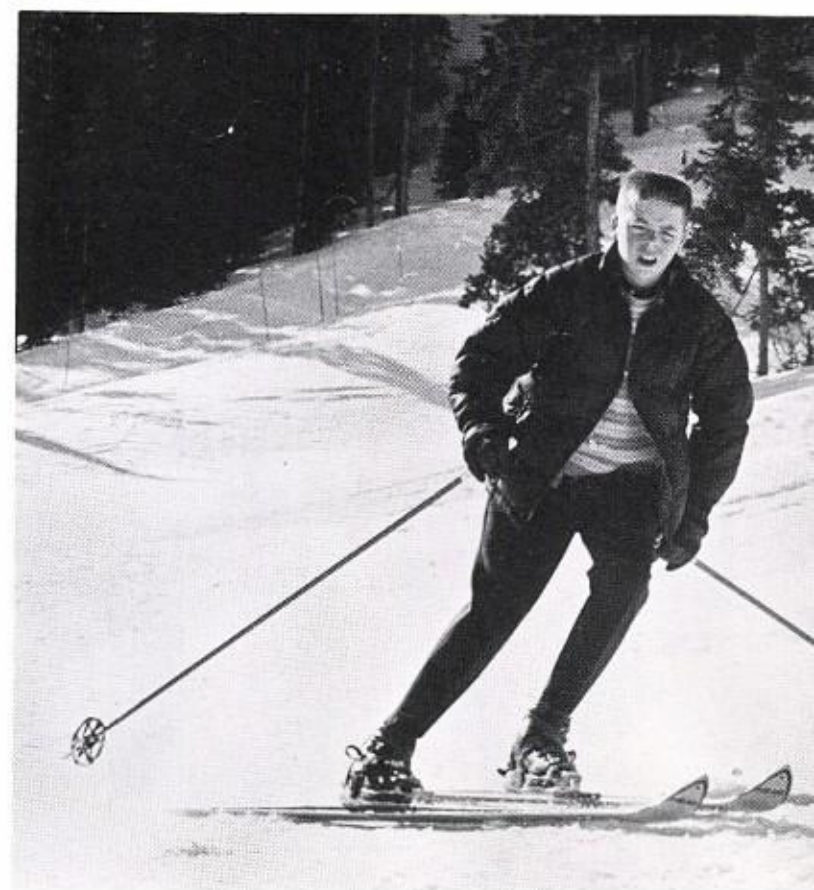

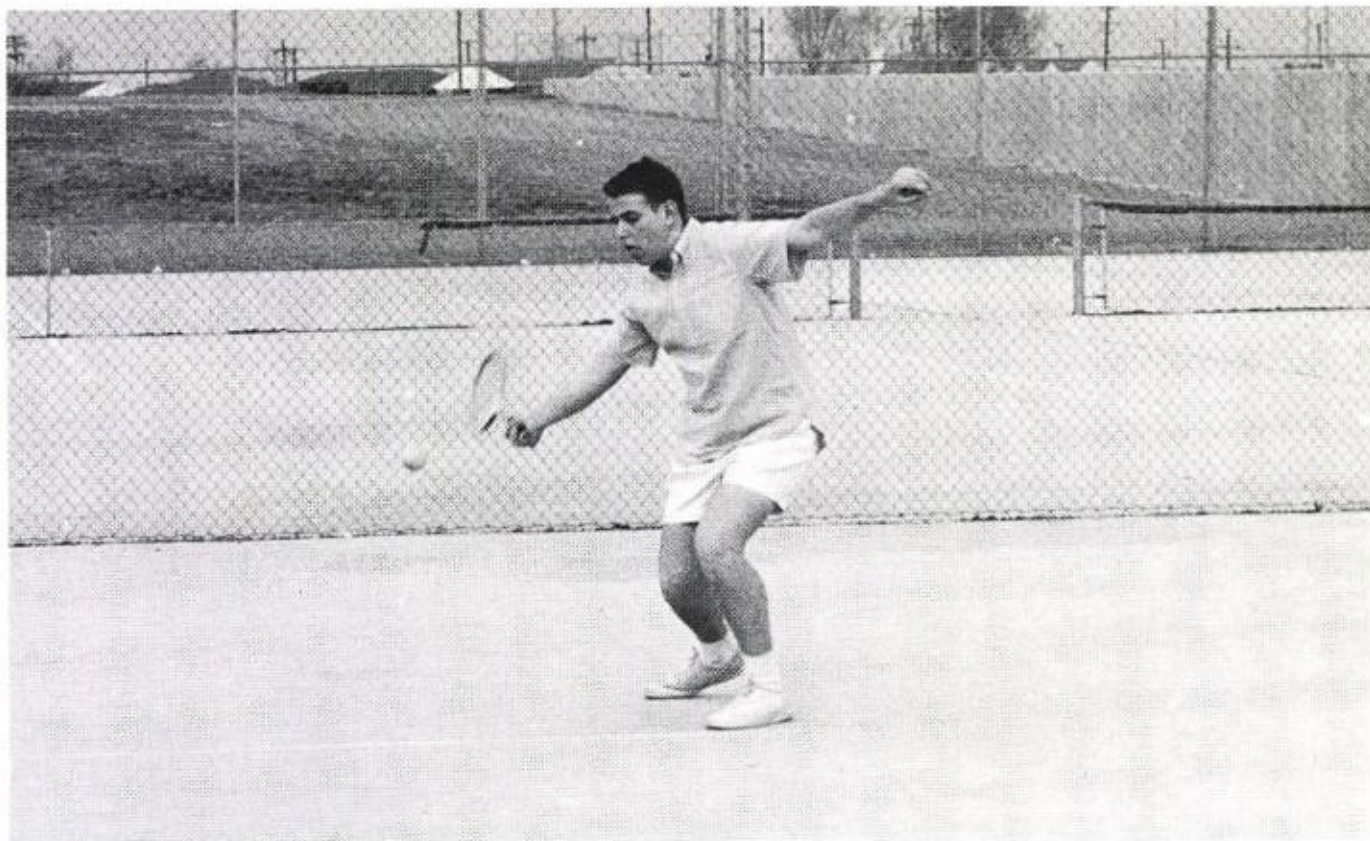

Judges and timers wait for the next skier in the Mile-Hi ski race, sponsored by George Washington, in which the girl's team placed second.

Mogulmeisters

One of the most active school clubs, the Mogulmeisters, sponsors a ski bus nearly every weekend to various areas. For the benefit of all Washington skiers, members held a ski fashion show, presented ski films, and throughout the entire season kept an up-to-date bulletin board for general ski information.

Tennis

The Tennis Club brings together Washington students with an interest in tennis. Monthly round-robin tournaments keep the members in practice during the winter, and beginning tennis players are welcome to instruction.

Sally Silverstein demonstrates her powerful serve.

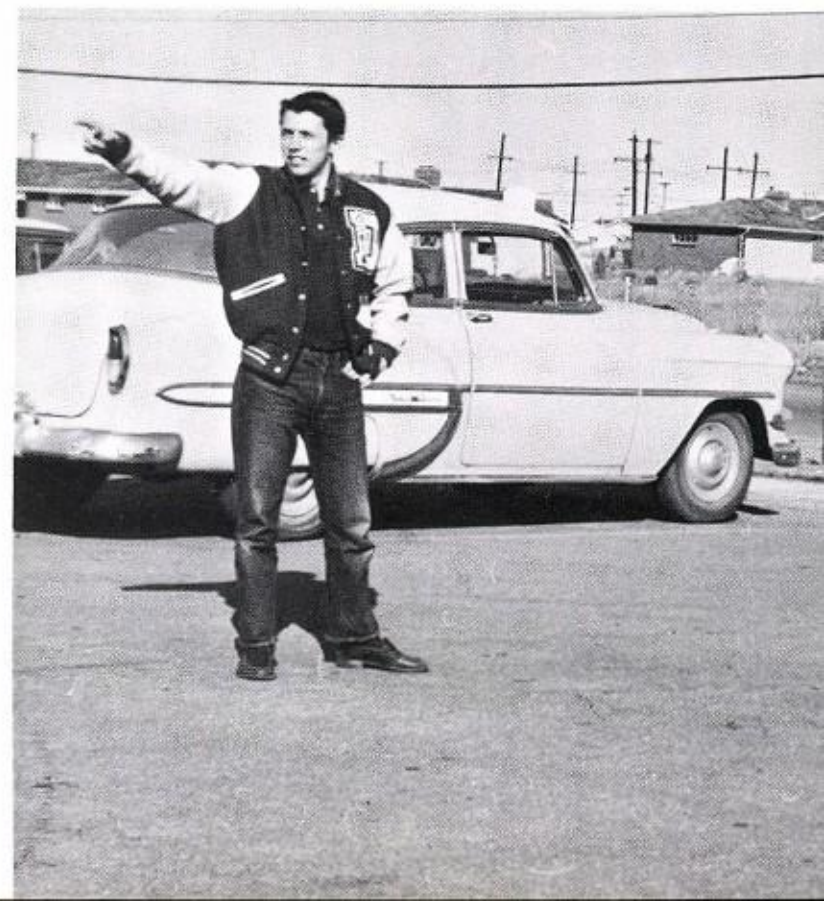

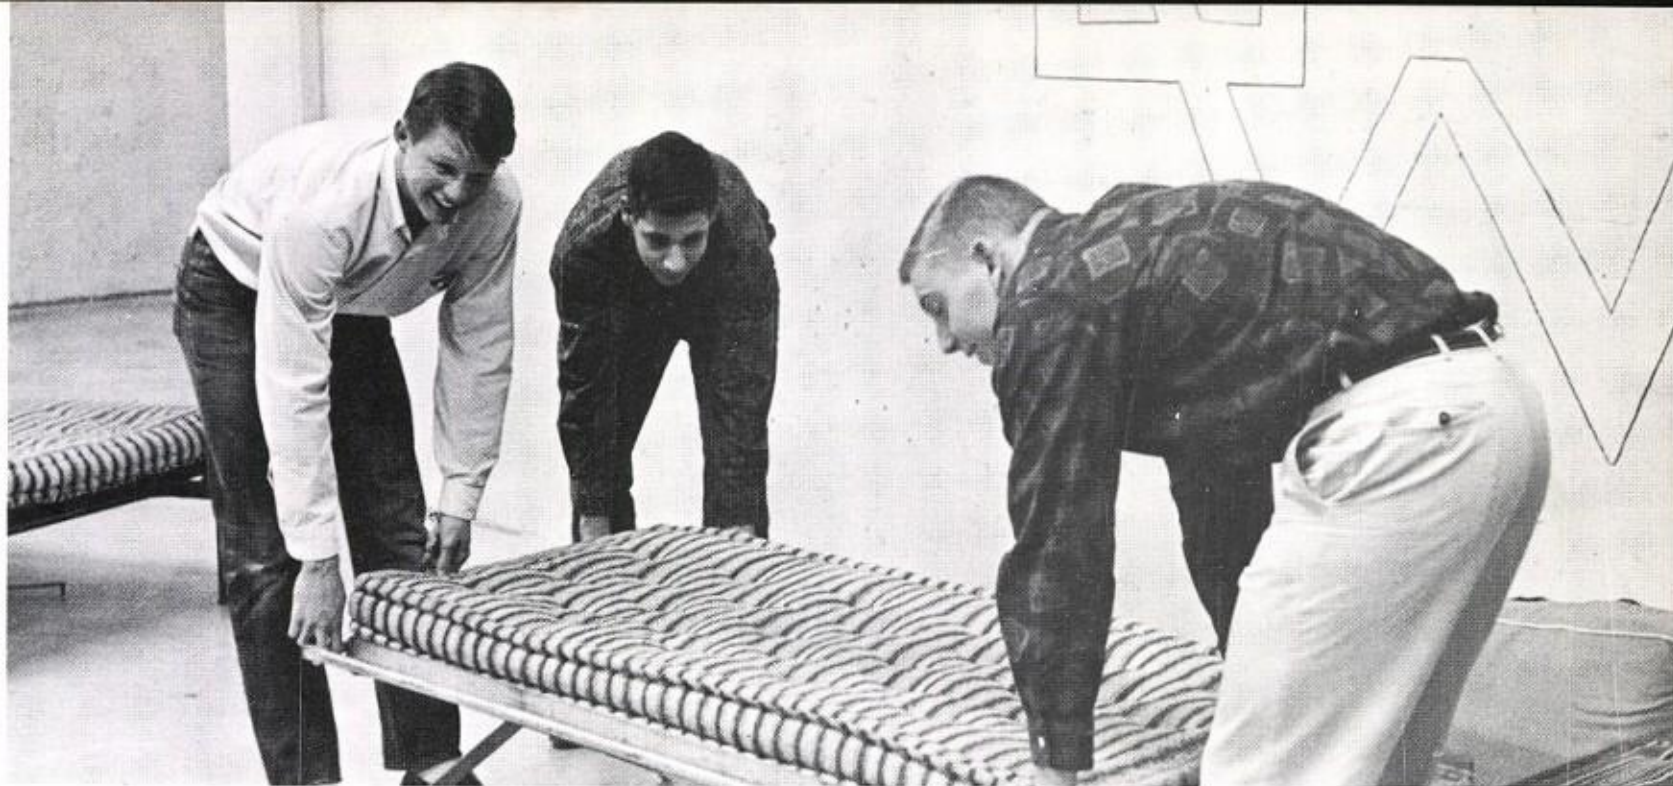

Ray Friedlob, Terry Needham, Mike Touff and Susie Pryor are engrossed in a game of contract bridge.

Bridge Club

Patriots reach a peak of tension and excitement at the monthly tournaments of the bridge club. Sponsored by Mr. Charles Gorren, the Trumps teach fellow students how to play their cards right.

Mike Wilfley, Bob Belt and John Wills move furniture into the new 'D' club room.

Joe Hamilton and Tripp Owen instruct one of the participants in the annual track meet for junior high students.

Chaz Seale directs traffic in the school parking lot.

'D' Club

George Washington's lettermen, working together as the 'D' Club, form the only service organization which devotes its efforts entirely to the school. Any boy who has lettered in a sport is eligible for membership in the club.

PAM MAUSNER is a girl of great ambition and enthusiasm. This combination has been displayed through her many accomplishments. Academically she has attained a 4.0 grade average which places her number one in the class. She has been a National Merit Scholarship Finalist, a Junior Escort, a member of the Honor Club, and has received honorable mention for her entries in a science fair and a writing contest. Yet, Pam still has time for music and sports. She has recently been taking guitar lessons from Mr. Aandahl and enjoys horseback-riding. Pam hopes to earn a Ph. D. in history or sociology.

MILTON LEBSACK is one of the two graduating seniors who has maintained a 4.0 grade average throughout high school. This high average has enabled him to become a Junior Escort and a member of the Honor Club. Milton has especially enjoyed classes in math and science and plans to follow up this interest with a career in scientific research. In addition to his scholastic pursuits, he enjoys playing football and basketball.

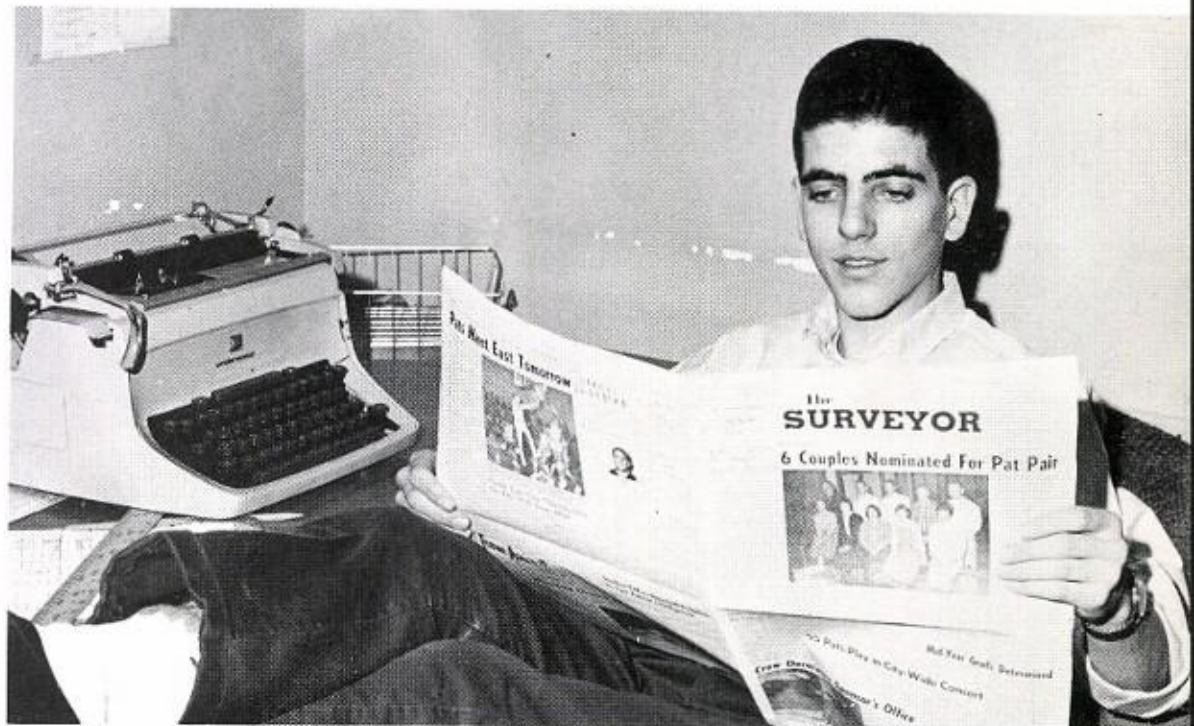

GERALD BECK is one of Washington's outstanding musicians. As a bassoon player, he has participated in All-State Band and All-State Orchestra. He has been active in Junior Achievement for the past two years. Last year he was the President of a clothes-horse-manufacturing company and placed second in Junior Achievement's President of the Year Contest. This year he is a member of an auditing company which has given him valuable practice in his major field of interest, mathematics. With his 3.97 grade average, Gerald is third in the class and a member of the Honor Club.

It is a privilege for the students at Washington to have a boy as talented as MONTY HOYT for a classmate. His greatest achievement has been in the field of figure skating. Monty is one of the tallest and youngest figure skating champions in the United States. Last year he was National Junior Men's Champion and an alternate to the World Championships in Prague, Czechoslovakia. This year he won the National Men's Championship and is the United States' top-ranking competitor at the 1962 World Championships. Monty, a talented actor, has been the President of the Drama Club and has appeared in productions at Elitch Gardens and the Civic Theater. He has also been an active member of the Voice of Youth. Taking a college preparatory program which included College French he has earned a 3.96 grade average which ranks him fourth in the graduating class and qualified him for membership in the Honor Club and Junior Escorts.

OUTSTANDING SENIORS

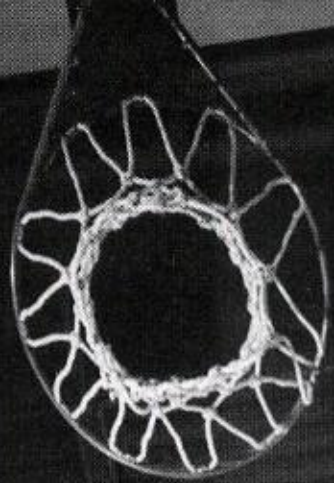

ALAN GROSSMAN'S seriousness, conscientiousness, and quiet humor have made him a favorite of the senior class. As editor of the Surveyor Alan has displayed these qualities consistently. He has shown his capabilities through his activities in Political Science, Pre-Law, and Honor Club. Although Alan is kept busy with all his activities he has been able to achieve a 3.95 grade average which ranks him fifth in the graduating class and has allowed him to be a Junior Escort.

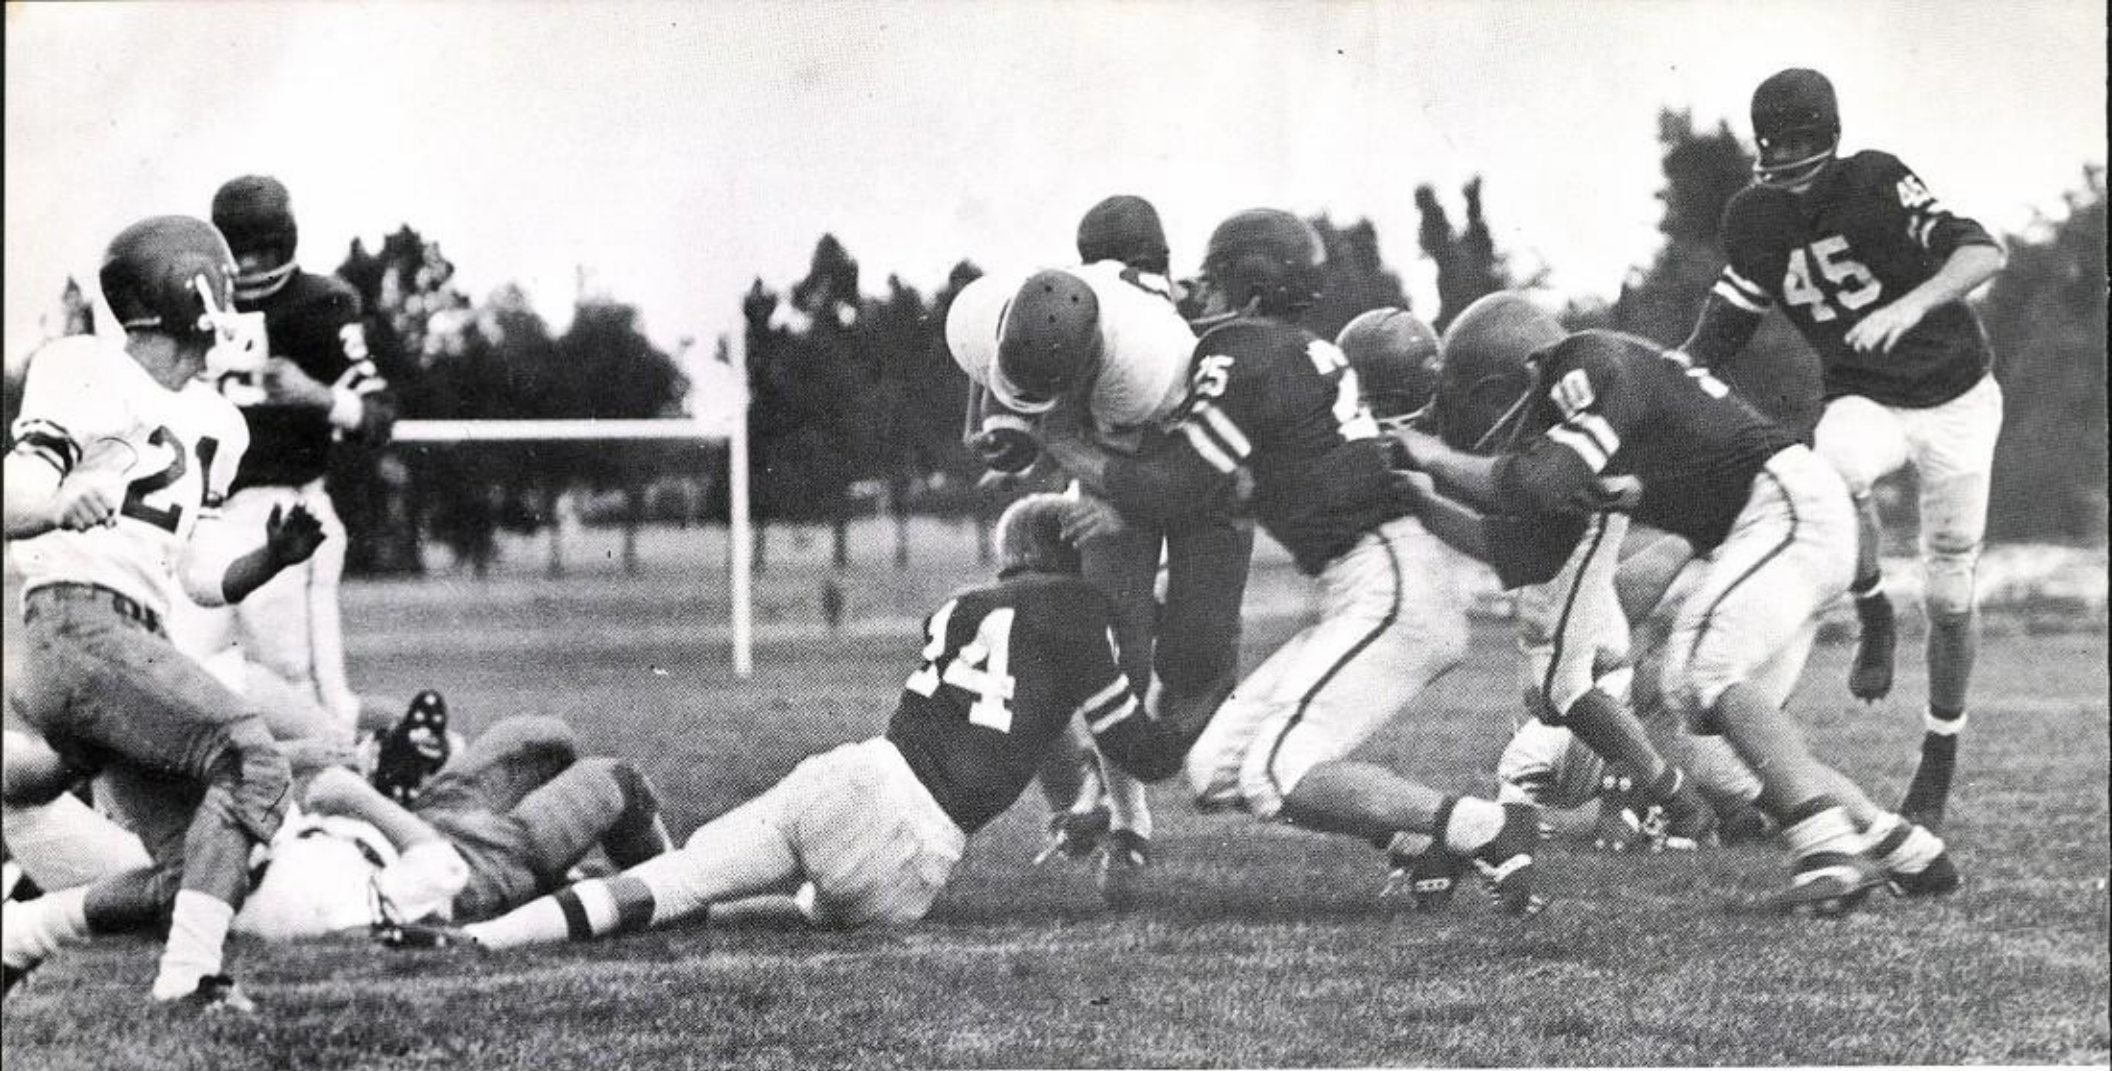

MARGIE KAMINSKY, a striking dark-eyed brunette, is known by all as the girl with the infectious, ever-present laugh. She has made many friends at George Washington through her activities such as Green Peppers, Honor Club, Junior Escort, and Heritage Staff. Although she has taken college courses in math, English, and history she has attained a 3.95 grade average and ranks fifth in the graduating class. However, Margie's talents have not been limited only to school functions. She has received a place award in the Scholastic Art Contest and has been recognized throughout the nation as a National Merit Scholarship Finalist.

Varsity Gridmen Set Pace

for Fall Sports

Sporting a 6-1 record, Washington's varsity gridmen finished second in the city competition. Despite a first game setback from East, the Patriots returned to defeat the North Vikings 21 to 6. Thereafter the football squad handed West a 17 to 0 loss, shut out the Lincoln Lancers 7 to 0, and downed Manual and South. In the final clash with Jefferson, the Patriots emerged victorious with a 25 to 20 win.

Cited for all-city honors were halfback Bill Slifer and guard Tripp Owen.

Soph Football

After losing their first game to East, the Sophomore gridgers completed the season undefeated, thus enabling them to place second in city competition.

Headed by Coach Paul Vaughn, this team indicated through its high calibre of play that the Patriots would continue to field strong teams in future seasons.

Golf

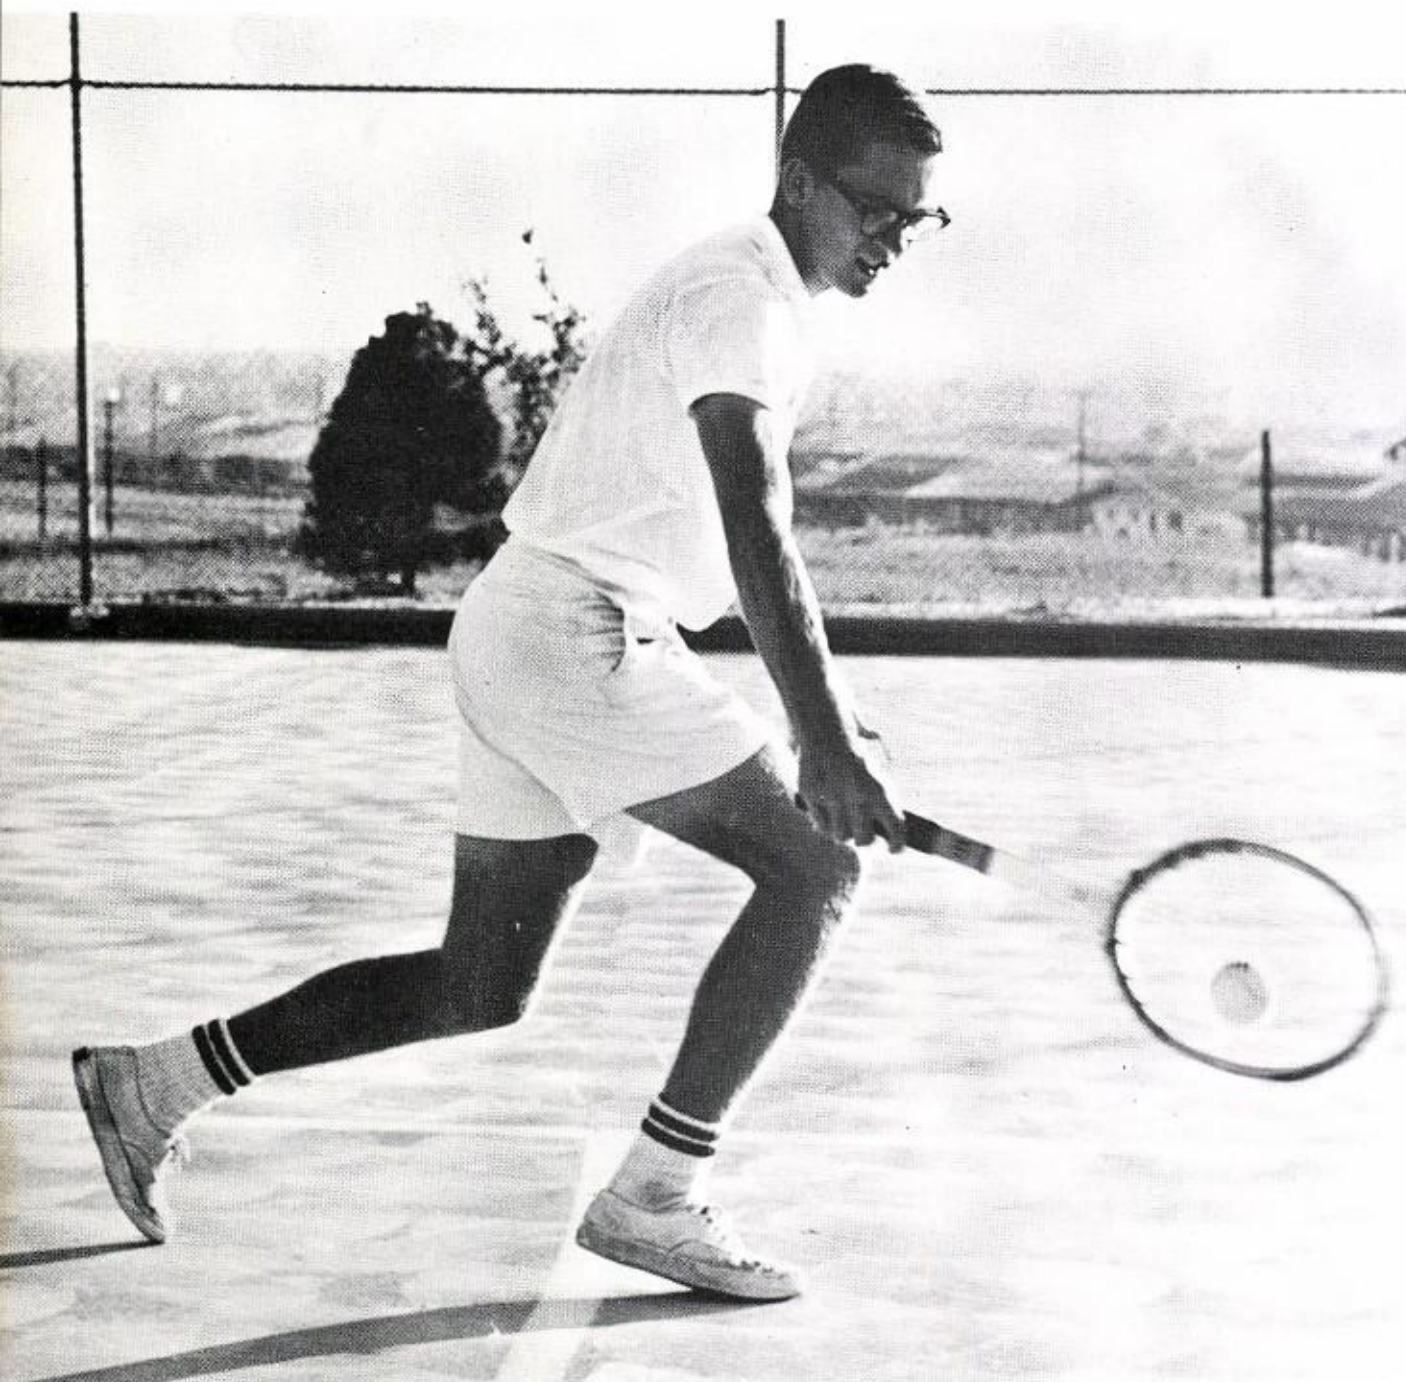

The Patriot golf team, which lost only three of its twenty-eight matches, succeeded in copping both the city and state crowns. Coach Robert Brannberg's linksters finished three matches ahead of Thomas Jefferson in the municipal competition, and two members, Bruce Heitler and Pete Williams, gained all-city recognition.

In the state championship held at Welshire Golf Course, the Patriots edged out Cherry Creek by three strokes. Pete Williams and Jon Streltzer were given all-state recognition as a result of their outstanding play in this tournament.

Tennis

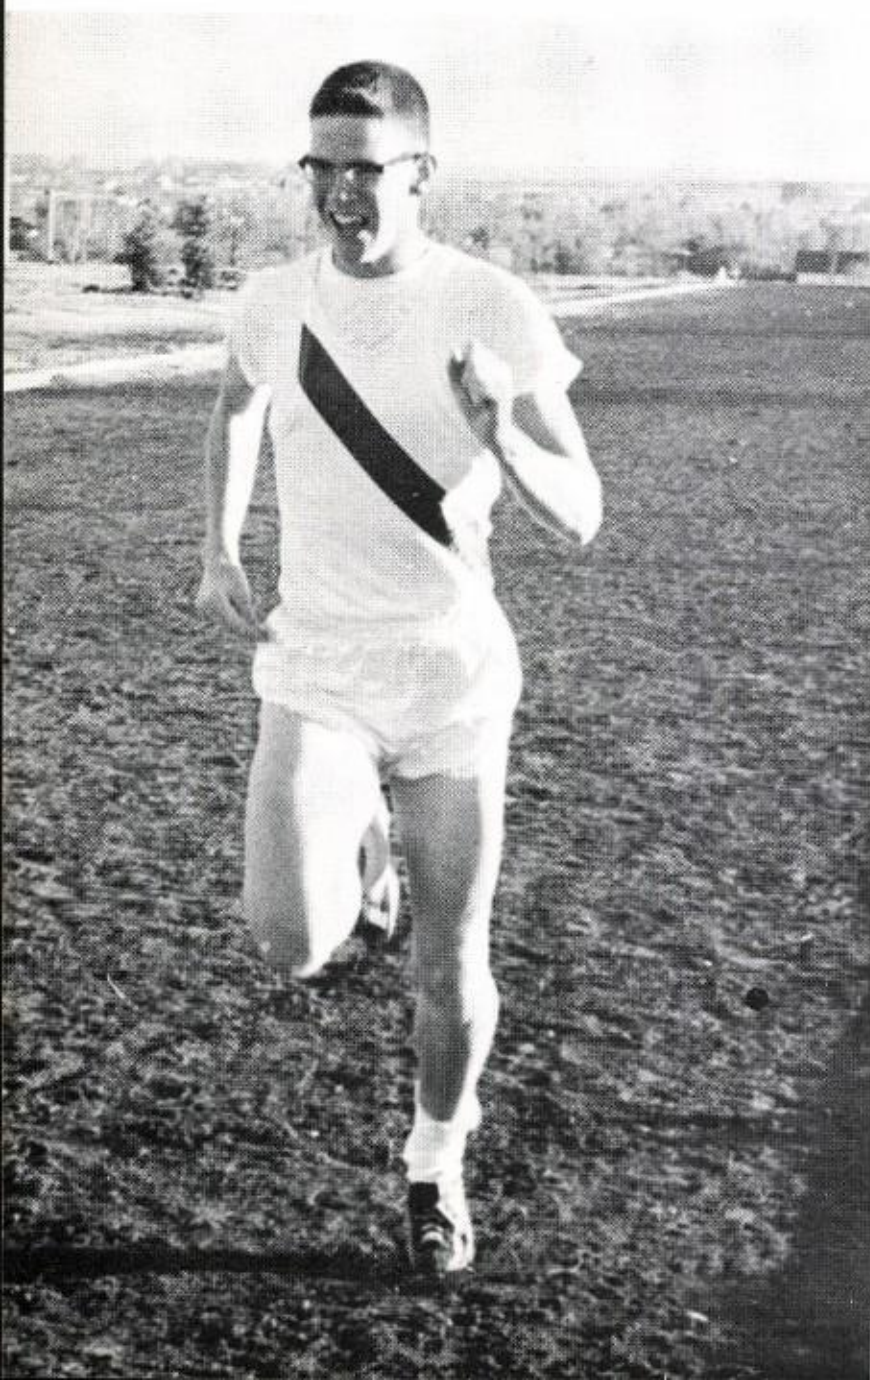

For the second straight year the Washington tennis team led by Coach Robert Brannberg won the city championship. The team lost only five of its forty-two matches, finishing well ahead of second place East.

Chips Barry captured first place in the singles division of the state competition. Duke Watson and Don Wheeler placed second in the doubles division, as the netmen secured second place in the state meet.

Washington runners complete their preliminary warm-ups.

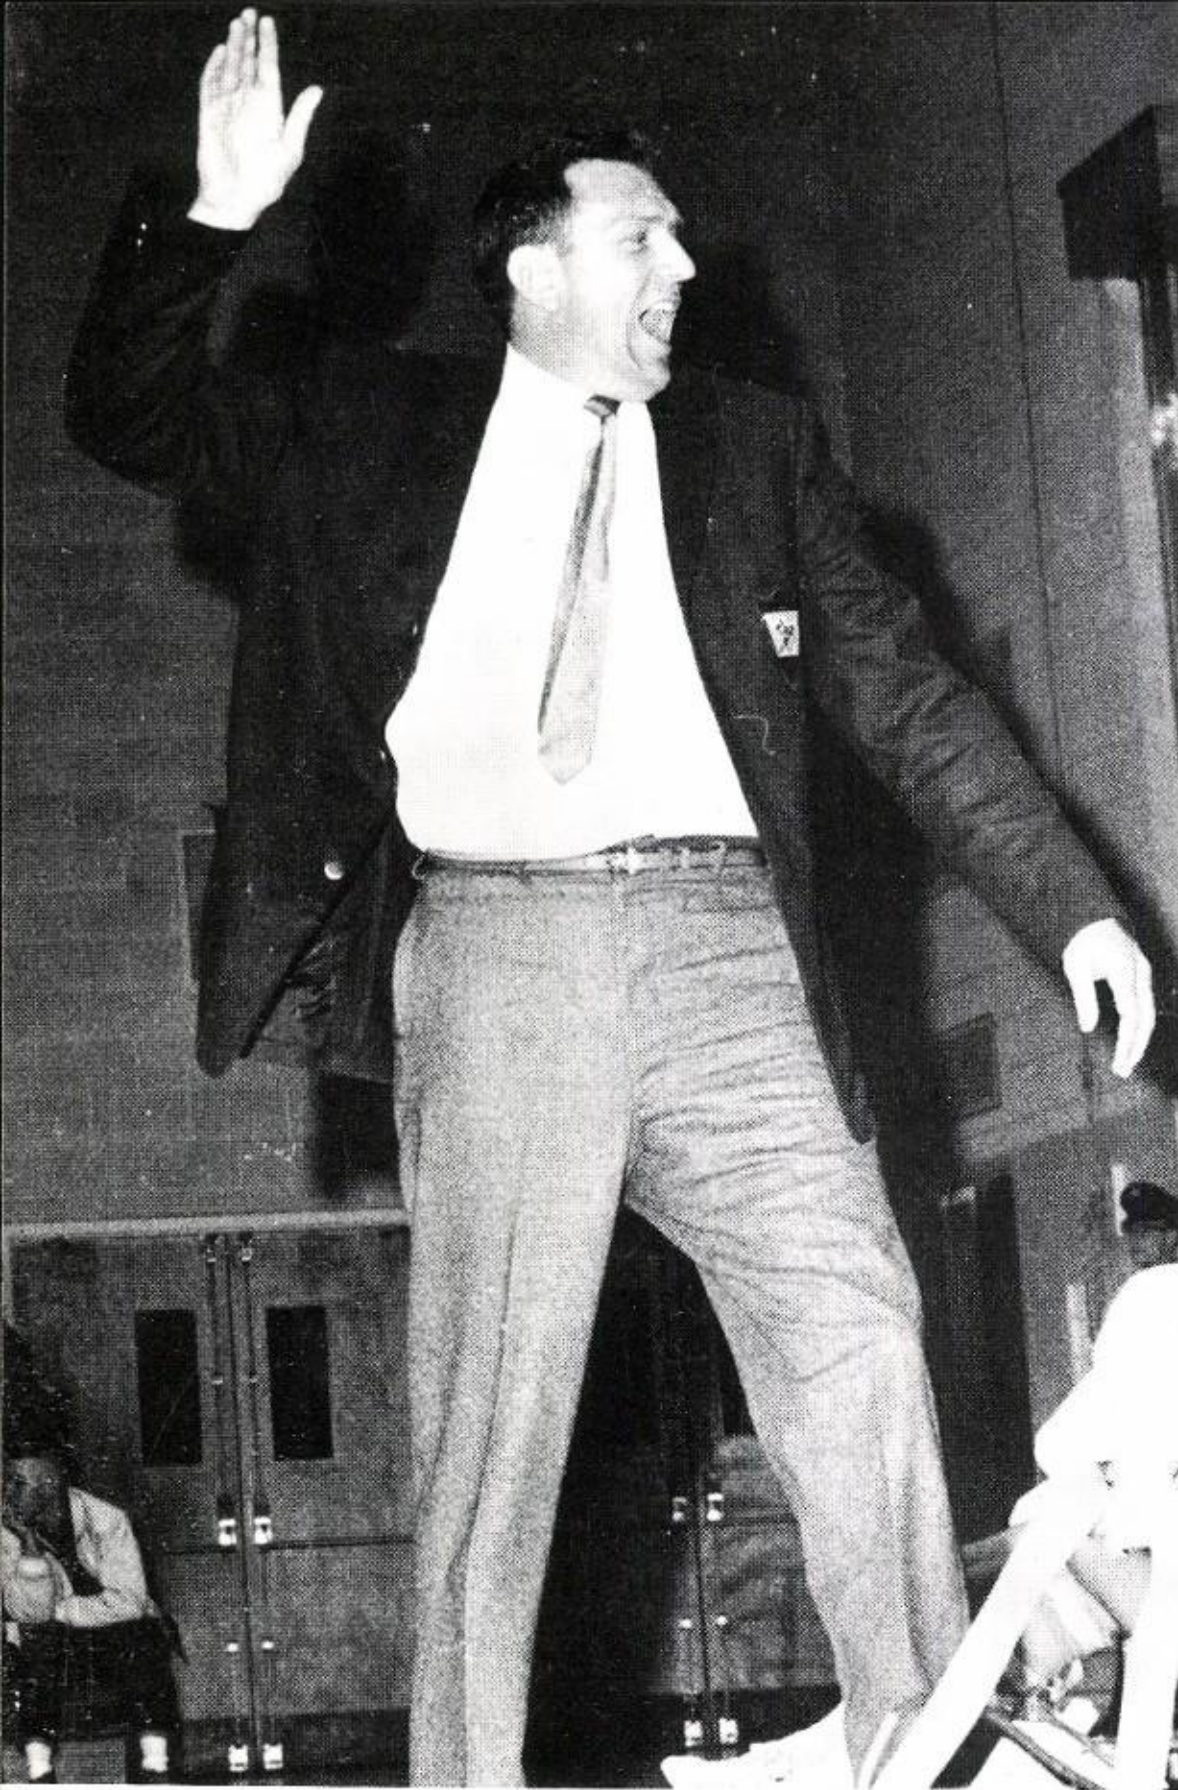

Dick Durning runs a time trial, preparing for a city meet.

Cross Country

The Patriots' cross country team, with only one returning letterman, lacked the experience necessary to take the city crown. Although the team finished sixth, Coach Brannberg was encouraged by the potential of his two sophomore runners, Erik Edeen and Jon Tripp. With a nucleus of these two harriers and two fine juniors, Paul Christensen and Dick Durning, Coach Brannberg expects a solid team next fall.

Basketball

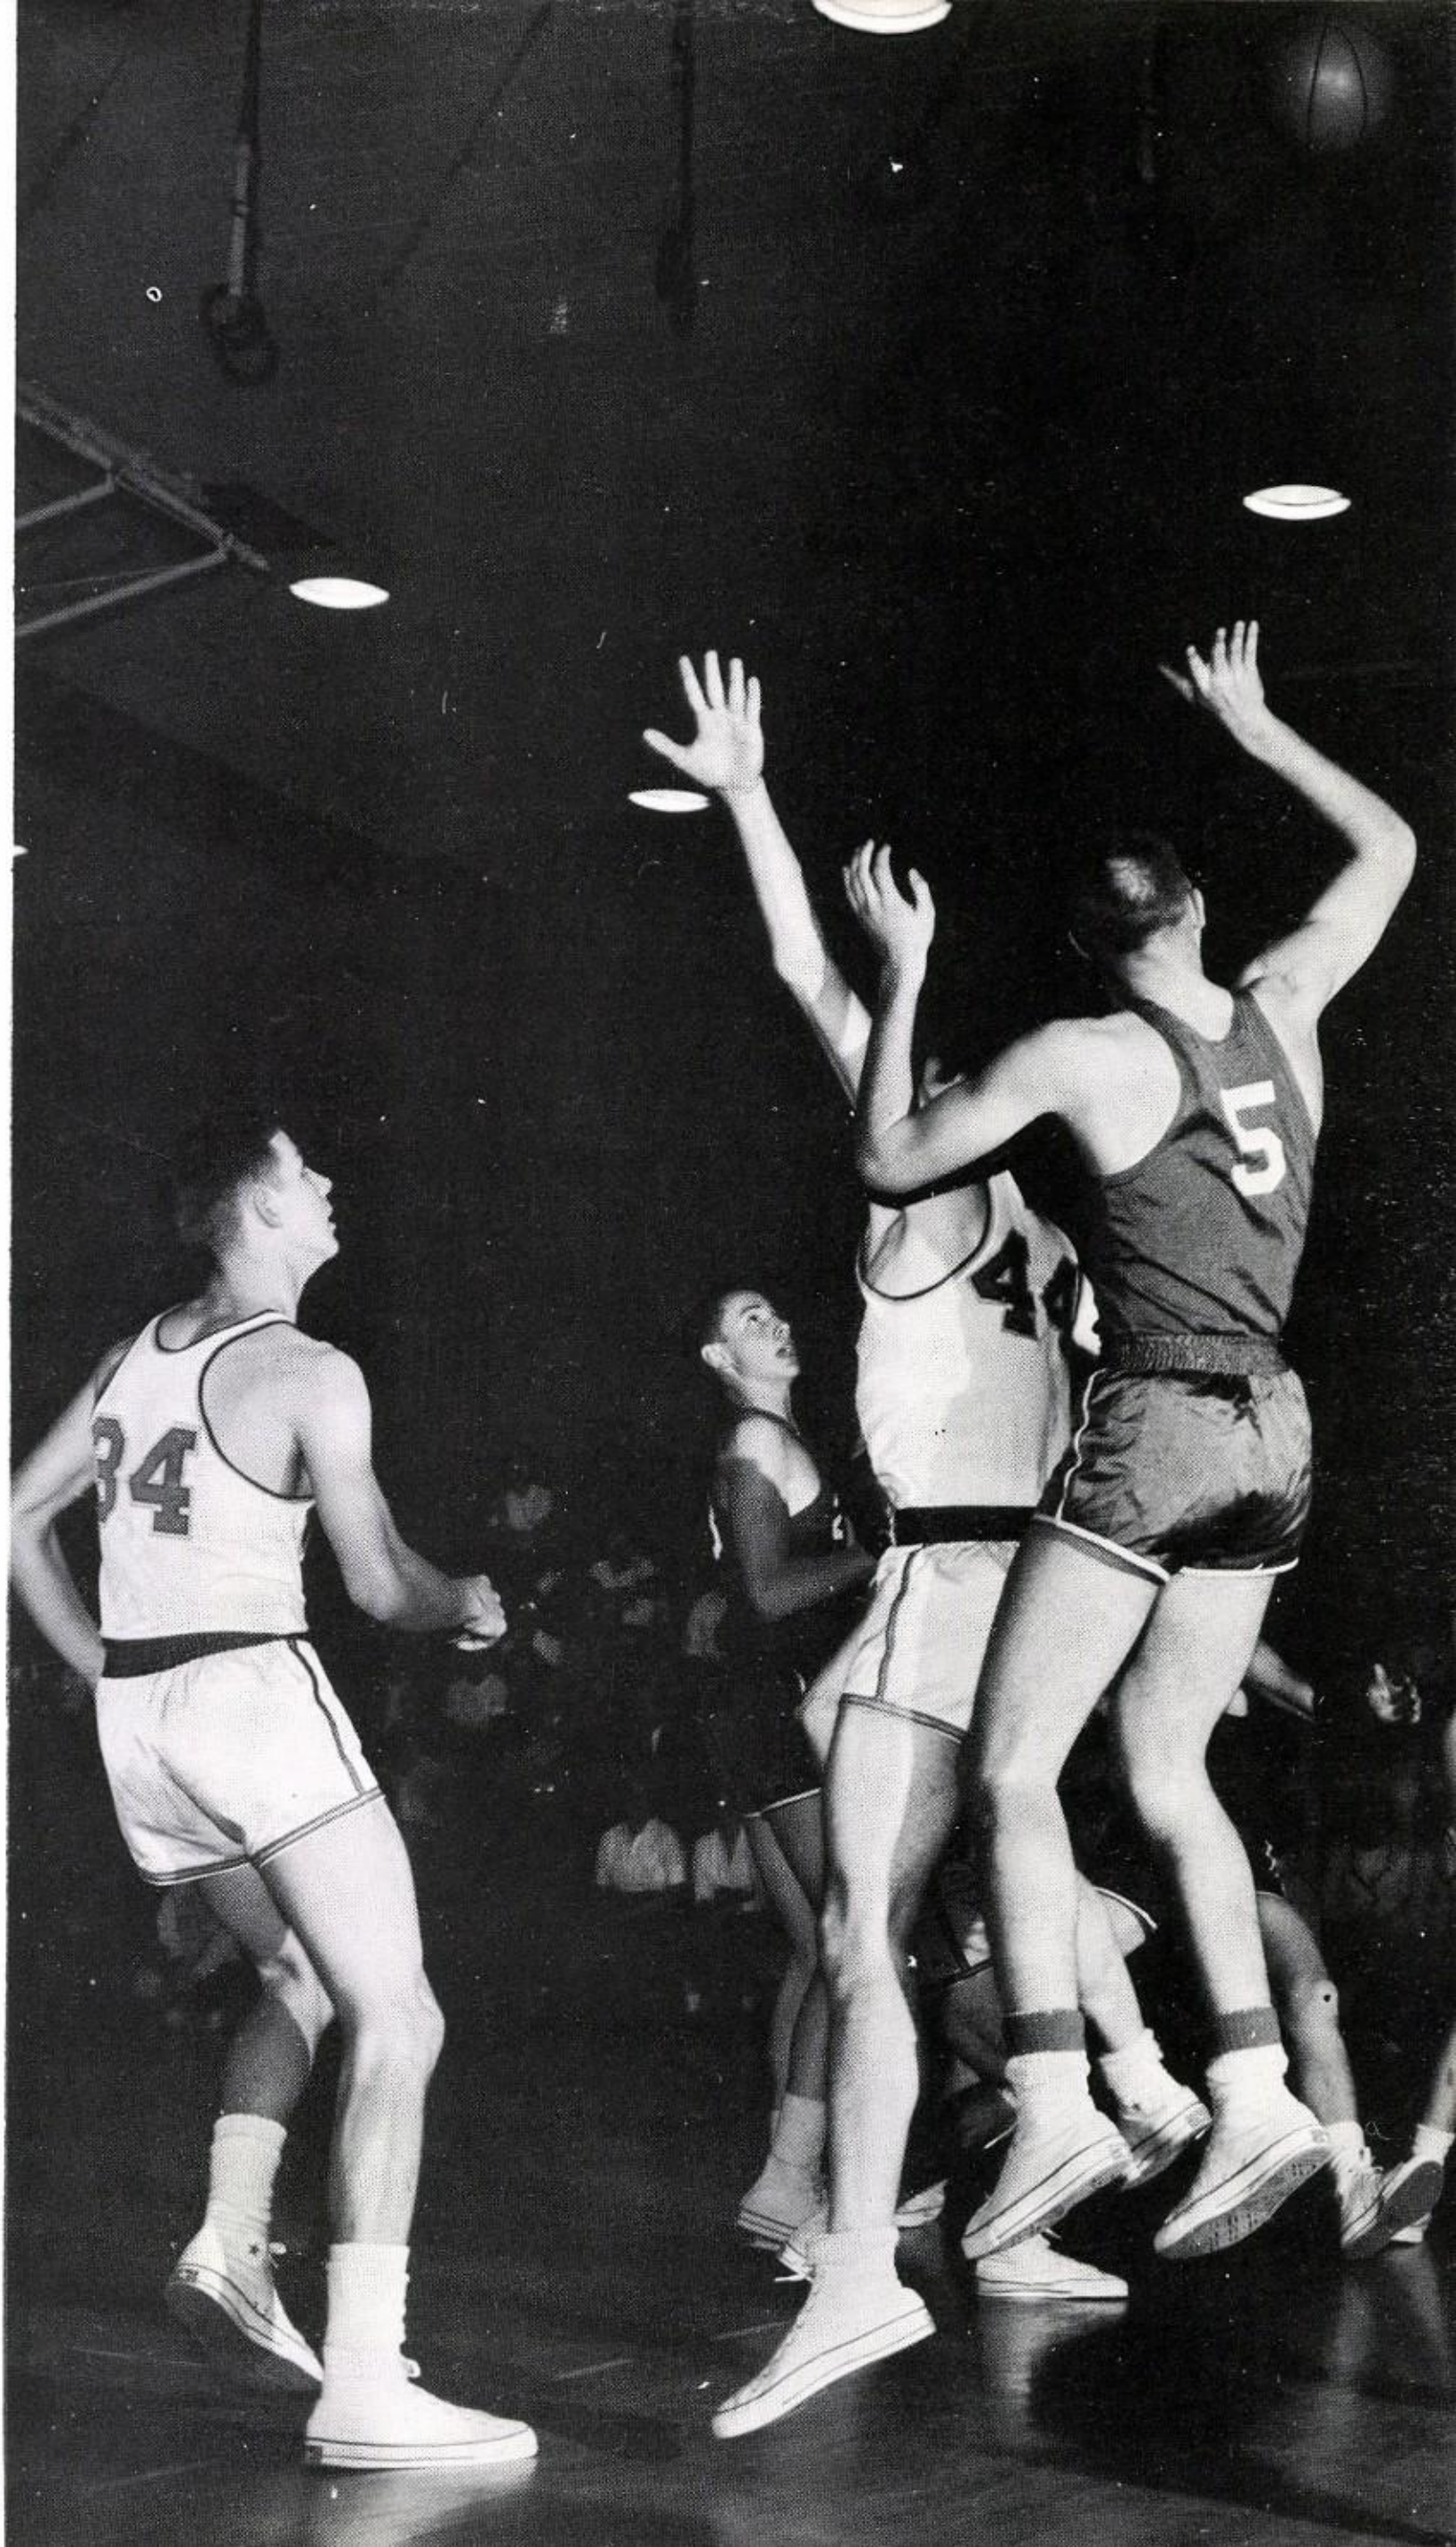

At the outset of basketball season East's Angels handed the Patriot cagers a bitter defeat. This initial loss seemed to have determined the team's fate. However, the cagemen defeated all of their opponents in their remaining five games, culminating in a 61-57 upset over Manual. Tying for fourth place with North, Washington's final record was seven wins and seven losses.

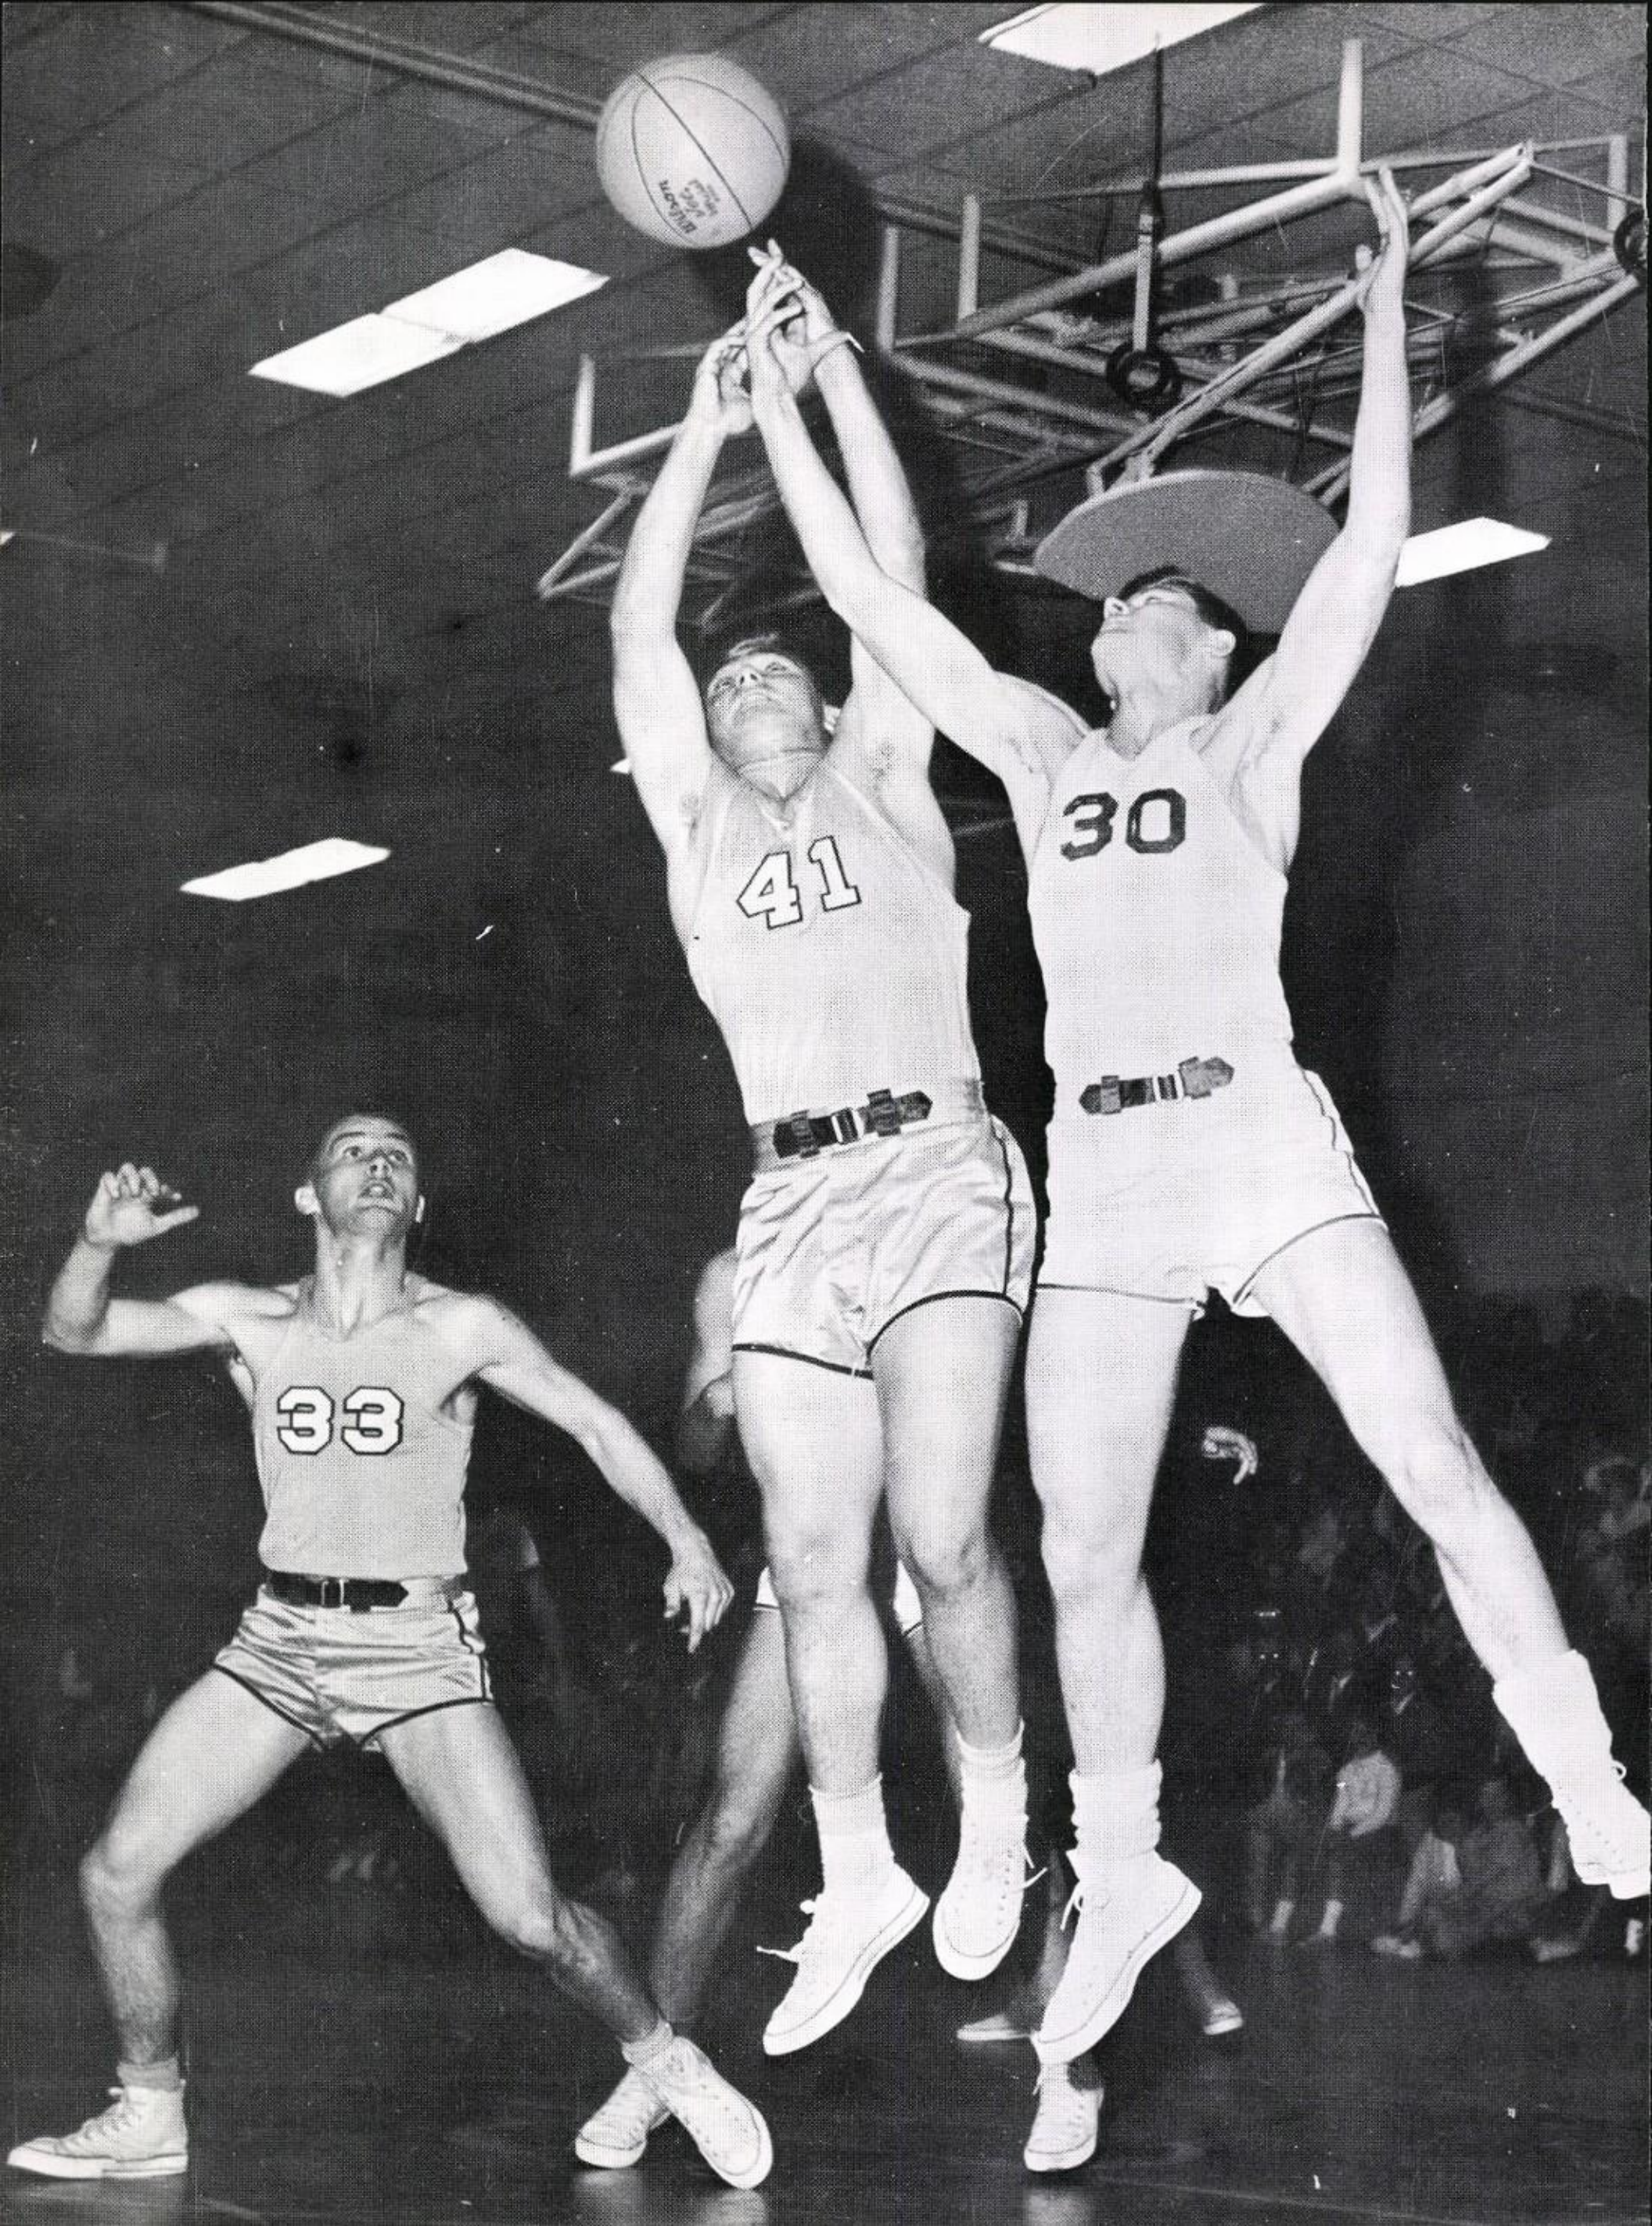

Bob Berenbaum, who was nominated to the all-city team, was high scorer for the patriots, with an average of 16.3 points per game. He also placed among the top ten scorers in the city.

NDCC Promotes

The establishment of companies, the formation of the Color Guard, and the issuing of ranks began a worthwhile and educational NDCC program. As the year progressed the cadets developed proficiency in map reading, drill, marksmanship, battle techniques, military customs, and first aid. Those who became the most skillful were chosen for the drill and rifle teams. The year's events were culminated by finals in rifle and drill competition and also by the long awaited military ball.

George Washington is extremely proud of the achievements of the cadets and particularly of those of Don Herrick who was named commander of the NDCC units in Denver.

John Foster, Don Herrick, Bob Hallowell, and Eddie Pickrel are practicing drill team maneuvers. Other team members include: Nick Baron, Don Carey, Ron Chapin, Paul Lancy, Bill Plutt, and Joe Young.

Good Citizenship

The cadets become familiar with the individual parts of a rifle.

Two Honorary Cadets, Alice Bradford and Barbara Lane, carefully maintain records in the NDCC office.

Honorary Cadets

Serving as official hostesses for George Washington, the Honorary Cadets aid in the successful operation of the NDCC unit. Their service includes such varied activities as clerical work in the NDCC office and participation in the Veteran's Day Parade.

College Counseling

The selection of a college is an activity which begins early in the year for most seniors. Under the guidance of Mr. Theodore Cooper students become familiar with the various schools through catalogues, college meetings and interviews. By the close of the year the choice is narrowed down to two or three colleges, and detailed applications are prepared for admission.

Exchange Students

Australia's Ian Urquhart, who came to Washington as a junior on the foreign exchange student plan, quickly became an active patriot. Ian took courses in history and language, was an enthusiastic member of the Boys' Pep Club and went out for track in the spring.

Dear Jackuland
This semester with you
has been one great big riot.
I've had more funzies with you than with anyone else here at G.W. cause I thought of you as my good buddy
I could trust, honour and obey. I also think cause school has been coming to an end these last few days that are friendship won't come to an end
Jacque, if you ever need a friend to stand by you or for anything else have like the troubles you have just remember that my door will always be open for you. And when you think back you'll now, I'll hope and the good remember me and the bad times along with the good times we've had together huh?
In fact I know that you can't forget me because you've just love me to bits. Lots of luck in the future and at home and with boys and with friends and with me. Take Care
Barrie
